Mistrial Seen as Gallogly Jury Is Locked Up

JURYMEN UNABLE TO REACH VERDICT, FOREMAN STATES

Judge Is Informed That Twelve Men Have Been Stalling Eight to Four Since Thursday Night.

FATE OF PRISONER DEBATED 13 HOURS

Court Explains That Credibility of Evidence in Case Is Question for Jury to Decide.

With a mistrial expected on all sides, the docked jury debating the fate of Dick Gallogly was locked up for the night for the second time at 9:30 o'clock Friday night after having had the case 27 hours and reporting itself still "eight to four" and no chance for a decision.

On orders from Superior Judge John D. Humphries, before whom the case was tried, Deputy Sheriff Gordon Hardy asked Foreman George Lyle at 9:30 o'clock if he considered further deliberation Friday night would bring a verdict, and upon learning from the foreman there was no chance, communicated with the trial judge, who again ordered the twelve men sent to the Henry Grady hotel.

At that time the jury had actually deliberated 13 of the 27 hours. Deliberations will be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning, but Judge Humphries is expected to declare a mistrial if no verdict is reached by nightfall.

After considering the case nearly 24 hours the jury at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon were called to the courtroom by Judge Humphries. The court then asked the men how they stood and the foreman reported that the jury had been voting eight to four and had stood that way since Thursday night. No indication was given as to how the jury stood, however.

Judge Humphries then asked the jury if it had been seriously discussing the evidence, and it was admitted that little real consideration had been given the evidence since before noon Friday.

The court then asked an explanation of the loud arguing and singing which had been heard in the jury room during the afternoon. It was explained that the argument had at times become rather heated, and that a retired minister, the Rev. C. K. Henderson, a member of the jury, had backed his logic with theology.

The judge then asked the jurymen if they had any questions, and, upon request, clarified the legal definition of "malice aforethought" and motive. In answer to a question, he explained that the credibility of evidence was for the jury to decide.

The court then emphatically requested that the jury retire once more to its chambers and seriously discuss the evidence with a view to returning a verdict. After the jury had left he explained to the state that he felt it his duty to hold the jury at least until Saturday. He instructed the bailiffs to take the jurymen to dinner whenever they wished it and to hold them in the jury room only until a majority wished to go to the hotel or until 10 o'clock.

After deliberating for about 30 minutes more the jury asked to go to the hotel.

Southern Storms Kill Seven, Injure Scores; Loss Heavy

Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and North Carolina Hit by Tornadoes. Rivers on Rise.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Whipping angrily across the south from Louisiana to North Carolina, spring's tornadoes left seven dead, scores injured and heavy property damage in their path yesterday, even before winter's floods had completed their ravaging course through the southeast.

Five negro children were killed and eight injured in a church used for a school at Merrelltown, Ala. One boy was killed at Small Creek, N. C.; several others injured and much damage done in a 10-mile radius around Charlotte, N. C. A farmer was killed by lightning at Alpharetta, Ga.

Many other towns and communities were struck by freakish tornadoes or rainstorms. Alexandria, La., suffered $100,000 property loss. Pell City, Ala., was drenched by a cloudburst, estimated unofficially at six inches. Maxwelltown, Ala.; Chattahoochee, Ga.; and Wilson, N. C., were struck by twisters. Jackson, Miss., reported Pearl river and Town creek raging torrents from a rainstorm.

Heavy Rains Keep Up.

Relief measures were pressed through the flood areas of Georgia, Alabama and Florida, where upward of 25,000 were homeless. Several flood gates of the Coosa river were closed by utilities companies in time to prevent further flood damage on the Alabama river. Scores of hitherto undiscovered flood refugees were carried to safety on a government boat below Selma, Ala. Henry M. Baker continued a southeastern flood survey for the Red Cross, in inspecting Newton and proceeding on to Bainbridge, Ga., and planning regular schedules for Alabama next. Major C. N. Hobbs, district engineer of the Florida state board of health, called for aid for the 3,000 refugees anew, declaring that only St. Petersburg and Bradenton were doing anything for them.

Heavy rains meanwhile poured into the watershed in the flood area. An average of 2.8 inches fell in 24 hours in the upper Chattahoochee watershed in Alabama and Georgia. With further rain in sight today, C. F. von Herrmann, of the Atlanta weather bureau, said the March rainfall record of 11.80 established in 1880 in Georgia was tottering. Only seven-tenths of an inch was lacking last night.

Restoration of railroad lines was proceeding, with the Atlanta and West Point and the Louisville and Nashville announcing regular schedules would be resumed through the heart of flood-ravaged south Alabama at 5:45 a. m. today.

Sent From Detroit to McNeil Island, 'Max Walker' Is Revealed as Sam Hardy, Federal Agent.

Detroit, Mich., March 22.—(Special.)—"Max Walker," incarcerated in the McNeil Island federal prison to check up on the administration of Warden Finch Archer, of the institution, has been identified here as Sam Hardy, a department of justice agent.

Walker was discovered and placed in the "hole" on a bread and water diet, but later released on orders from Washington.

Mrs. Mahel Walker (Willebrandt), assistant attorney-general in charge of federal prisons, announced that Warden John W. Snook, of the Atlanta prison, was the only warden to protest introduction of the espionage system evolved by her in the checkup.

Her announcement that the policy would be made general followed exposure of the planting of a Peter Hanson, later identified as William Larsen, a department operative, in the Atlanta pen, and which caused a national flurry.

Hanson also was sent up from this city, where Thomas C. Wilcox, head of the local department of justice bureau, is in charge. Wilcox figured prominently in the Hanson expose, and recently came again into print when a "Joseph Montana," alleged third agent of the department to be planted in the federal penal institutions, was released from Atlanta on orders from Washington.

DOCTORS UNABLE TO FIND BLOOD TO SAVE WOMAN

Despite the fact that more than 15 blood samples were taken and analyzed during Thursday and Friday doctors at Grady hospital still are searching for blood suitable to be used in a transfusion to save the life of Mrs. H. E. King, 27, of 274 Milton avenue.

Mrs. King, the wife of Patrolman King, has been in a critical condition for a number of days following a major operation. It was decided Thursday that a transfusion was imperative and doctors have since been searching for a sample matching the blood of the patient.

New Orleans, March 22.—(AP)—A coroner's jury shortly before midnight brought in a verdict of death by accidental burning of an automobile in the case of Mrs. Janet H. Baker, whose charred body was found early Tuesday in a burning automobile in Audubon park.

Despite the verdict, Eugene Stanley, district attorney, declared he would go to the scene of the tragedy at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning to be present when the police divided into park lagoon to locate the mysterious article a witness testified that a woman answering Mrs. Baker's description, had thrown into the water a few minutes before the automobile burst suddenly into flame. The nature of this article and a study of the coroner's jury testimony will determine the future action of the district attorney's office, he said.

FEDERAL RESERVE REDISCOUNT RATE HIKE FORESEEN

Extraordinary Session of Board in Washington Believed With Intent To Curb Speculators.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES, United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, March 22.—(United News.)—Possibility of a raise in federal reserve rediscount rates was seen tonight at the end of another skirmish in the federal reserve board's attempt to curb the speculative fever of Wall Street.

The skirmish today was in the form of an extraordinary session of the reserve board, with Secretary of Treasury Mellon and Governor George L. Harrison, of the New York Federal Reserve bank, present to discuss the situation. The meeting was called after several warnings had failed.

There were indications that unless Wall Street calls off the speculative rampage, a titanic battle may result, the first real encounter since the Wilson administration, to clip the wings of Wall Street. The meeting today appeared to have its effect in scaring the speculators, for both New York and Chicago markets reacted.

None of the 12 federal reserve board members would discuss the meeting. It was regarded as partly a psychological move, but with a canvass of possible steps, including hiking up of rediscount rates. This may follow if the psychological effect of the meeting today does not prove sufficient. The board may issue another statement on the general situation shortly.

Loans Highest Ever.

The extraordinary session today with Mellon and Harrison was prompted by the revelation yesterday that loans to brokers for the past week had reached a new all-time peak of $5,793,000, despite the reserve board's restrictive policy and its repeated warnings. This new record was $124,000 higher than the previous high mark.

The board's two and a half-hour meeting in the morning was followed in the afternoon by a two-hour round of conferences between Governor Roy A. Young, of the board; Harrison, and individual members of the board. The board meets almost every Friday, but the presence of Mellon and Harrison, and the activity during the afternoon pointed to the significant bearing of this meeting on the speculative situation. Mellon rarely attends the meetings.

The first warning of the board on February 7 against excessive speculation was followed by a gradual reduction in the amount of brokers' loans. Then last week's high peak was revealed yesterday, the trend of brokers' loans is an index of stock market activity. This sign of continued feverish speculation came on the heels of a warning by Governor Young in a recent speech at Cincinnati that its final cost may be impairment of the nation's prosperity.

Other Courses Open.

Other courses open to the reserve board besides hiking up of rediscount rates are selling of government securities and increasing reserve requirements of member banks. Throwing government securities on the market would tend to take up cash which otherwise might go into the market, but there are not enough securities available to make much difference, it is understood. Raising of the rediscount rate would tend to raise interest rates generally, and thus make money harder to get for speculative purposes. The general theory of the federal reserve board action is that the reserve system's credit is a basis for all credit. The reserve board has no way to maintain a low on money for ordinary commercial purposes and at the same time keep it high for speculative purposes.

Some treasury officials, it is known, are of the opinion that the government cannot do a great deal to curb speculation, on which there is a difference with members of the board. Recently a rift was indicated in this quarter.

Money for the present speculative wave is coming from security and corporations, who are lending their surplus for stock market trading.

SENATORS EVEN CONSIDER IMPEACHMENT JAG

GRIPS OKLAHOMA; 3 JUSTICES NEXT

Okla. City, March 22.—(AP)—Oklahoma's impeachment tree tonight sprouted more branches as a matured offshoot took the form of a boom-rang and swatted the senate court that only a few days ago ousted Henry S. Johnston from the governor's chair.

After the house had initiated a sequel to the governor's impeachment by voting a charge against Charles W. Mason, chief justice of the state supreme court, who presided over Johnston's trial, the senate heard John L. Rice, one of its members, testify that Ed M. Semans, Oklahoma City insurance man, had attempted to influence his vote in the governor's case.

Say Judge Took Bribe.

However, the impeachment of a governor and the voting of similar charges by the house against the chief justice is only part of the prolific inquisitorial garden under cultivation. Charges against two other members of the supreme court were reported to the senate today by its investigating committee. These justices are Fletcher Riley and J. W. Clark.

The main charge against Chief Justice Mason is that he accepted a bribe of a motor car from an Oklahoma City automobile agency in connection with a case in which the firm was involved. The charges against the other justices deal with alleged irregularities in court procedure.

Road Bond "Melon."

In his testimony before the senate tonight, Senator Rice declared that Semans told him that if he would join the opposition to the governor a $150,000 road bond issue would be issued if W. J. Holloway acceded to the governor's chair and that "a $150,000,000 bond would be cut."

"He told me," Senator Rice said, "that there would be plenty of money for everybody and that I could have anything I wanted in my county."

The senator was cited to appear before the senate to make representations regarding a letter that appeared in the Oklahoma City newspaper. The letter alleged that the senator had been approached with a bribe and that an effort had been made to purchase the senator's vote. Rice said he had no recollection of the alleged proposition. He considered the alleged proposition a bribe. He said, "I am not a bribe taker. I am a public servant. I am not a politician. I am a citizen."

General Francisco Borquez, in command of revolutionary headquarters, was author of the announcement. He said General Francisco Manzo and General Ramon F. Iturbe, commanding the rebel columns in Sinaloa, had been ordered to march on the capital of the state south of Sinaloa.

"In case the federal forces at Mazatlan do not surrender," said General Borquez, "it is possible that the rebel forces will be divided. One wing will be left to keep General Carrillo bottled up and the other will detour around the city and head for Tepic, Nayarit, the capital of the state south of Sinaloa."

Capture of a small detachment of federal troops at Mazatlan was reported by General Borquez. He announced that General Fausto Topete, commanding forces surrounding Naco, had occupied Cananea and Del Rio within 30 miles of Naco.

Pacific Coast Port City Withstands First Charge. Six Navy Officers Held for Trial.

Mexico City, March 22.—(AP)—Federal authorities tonight expressed themselves as satisfied with the situation at both Mazatlan, on the west coast and near Torreon, in the northern arena. Reports from Mazatlan were that the entrenched federal defenders had repulsed the first drive of the insurgents, made early this morning.

While pushing its military operations against the rebels still in the field, the government carried on its investigation of those responsible for the short-lived movement in Vera Cruz.

Six high ranking naval officers were imprisoned here to await a court-martial investigation of their possible connection with the revolt. The fleet had remained in Vera Cruz harbor for several days after the city had been seized by rebel General Jesus M. Aguirre.

General Aguirre and his chief associates, already have paid with their lives for the revolt. If the charges against the naval officers are substantiated they face a similar fate.

General Plutarco Elias Calles continued today the preparation of his great army at Torreon for a northward advance into Chihuahua. At national headquarters here it was announced that the federal troops would find support from many of the residents of the border state. Workmen in the vicinity of Parral, Chihuahua, were said to have organized volunteer armed forces to cooperate with the federal army and traxians in other sections of Chihuahua were declared to have refused to support Governor Carrasco, who joined the rebel movement.

Nogales, Sonora, March 22.—(AP)—Direct communication with Mazatlan, Sinaloa, which today began a concentration of revolutionary statements issued here declared that the siege of the seaport city on Mexico's west coast was continuing. At the same time the revolt leaders said the proposed attack on Naco, Sonora, federal stronghold just across the American line from Naco, Arizona, might not occur for several days.

MOVE ON CALLES NEAR TORREON

Jimenez, Chihuahua, March 22.—(AP)—Mobilized in cavalry columns for an attack on the city of Torreon, their former stronghold, insurgent forces of central Mexico today took the initial step of their long-awaited counter offensive against the powerful government army headed by General P. Elias Calles.

Equipped with food and munitions for a thorough campaign in the mountain fastnesses of Durango and Coahuila, should the Calles army advance for a contact outside the city, the rebel army concentrated at Bermejillo, in the far northeast part of Durango and only 30 miles from the important industrial center, Bermejillo is about 100 miles south of the present rebel base in Jimenez.

Revolutionary leaders declared that troops were ready for action at Bermejillo either to resist any advance by the Calles forces or to press forward for an attack.

Many citizens were reported offering their services to the rebels. In Jimenez today, volunteers in sympathy with the revolutionary cause waited in line to be recruited. This territory either to resist any advance by the Calles forces or to press forward for an attack.

The provisional government, in harmony with its program of moralization, seemed to be a possible shortage of arms and ammunition.

DRY NAVY VESSEL POURS BROADSIDE INTO RUM SUSPECT

Negro Seaman Is Either Killed by Gunfire or Drowned as Ship Sinks Under Fire.

CAPTAIN REFUSES TO SURRENDER

Chase Continues Through Two Days When Schooner Fails To Submit To Boarding.

New Orleans, March 22.—(AP)—The British auxiliary schooner Imalone of Belize, suspected of being a contraband carrier, was sunk off the Louisiana coast today in a battle at sea with the dry navy and one member of its crew, a negro seaman, was either killed or drowned.

Reports relayed here from coast guard radio stations at Pascagoula and Biloxi, Miss., stated that, acting under orders to capture the Imalone, the cutter Walcott, under command of Warrant Officer Frank Paul, encountered the schooner yesterday off Trinity Shoals, approximately 200 miles southeast of Marsh island.

The master of the schooner failed to heed an order to prepare for boarding and fled a course that would have taken him to Puerto Mexico. The Walcott placed one large shell in the schooner's rigging but was unable to overtake her due to intervening shoal water.

The chase continued, with other coast guard ships summoned and near "Sixty Deep" by the Dexter, which fired repeatedly at her until she sank without offer to surrender, the reports stated.

All members of the crew except one were taken from the foundering craft by the coast guardsmen of the Dexter, which then reported the affair and sailed for New Orleans, where orders from Lieutenant Bixby, squadron commander at Pascagoula.

Radio reports said the captain of the Dexter ordered the master of the Imalone to heave to and submit to search, but the fleeing craft dared the coast guardsmen to attempt to board. The Dexter's commander is said to have warned, "Get your men into the boats before we fire."

When the raider opened fire the Imalone's crew quickly took to boats and were picked up by the Dexter and the Walcott.

A gunman on the Walcott received a broken arm in the recoil of his gun yesterday when the Walcott placed the shell in the rigging of the schooner.

The body of the seaman was recovered.

The coast guard officer suspected the schooner of carrying liquor.

N., C. & St. L. Will Announce Plans for New Union Depot In Atlanta Within 30 Days

President J. B. Hill, of Railroad, Holds Conference With J. A. Perry, of State Commission.

Definite announcements of the plans of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad to erect a new Union station in Atlanta and also to foster a project calling for the construction of a 17-story office and storage plant on the site of the present station will be forthcoming between now and April 15, it was learned at the capital following a visit of President J. B. Hill, of that railroad, to Atlanta Friday. It is proposed to erect the new station on the west side of Forsyth street. Mr. Hill conferred with James A. Perry, chairman of the state public service commission, and after the conference Mr. Perry stated that steady progress has been made in the consummation of the plans, which involve the expenditure of approximately $3,000,000.

The proposed development was suggested by Mr. Hill and railroad engineers later prepared plans and specifications for a new depot and also for the new office and storage building. These plans, in tentative shape, were submitted to the public service commission.

In discussing the depot situation Mr. Perry said: "The question of improved depot facilities on the state's property in Atlanta has been one of daily and active consideration by the commission for several months. This activity I have communicated to local representatives as each change has taken place. The question of a proper solution of this matter has been one of great concern, and not of a nature to be aided by local agitation. The question involves large expenditures of money and if one possible plan is ultimately worked out it results in the expenditure of something like $3,000,000, and such sum must be amortized by proper returns within the next 41 years, the expiration of the present lease.

"All I can say is that the commission has exerted every possible effort to speed this matter to an early conclusion and it looks now that this end should be definitely realized within the next 30 days."

ARREST 'FAITH HEALER' ON FINDING DEAD GIRL

Poison Caused Death, Coroner Reports After Autopsy of Body.

Allentown, Pa., March 22.—(AP)—Charles A. Belles, self-styled "faith healer" tonight was arrested in connection with the death of 21-year-old Verna Octavia Delp whose body was found last Saturday on the grounds of the Cataqua Gun Club.

The girl died of poison, the coroner's report stated, but the nature of the poison has not been determined. With the arrest of Belles, District Attorney E. A. Gearhart says there will be a sweeping inquiry into the practices of pow-wow-men in Lehigh and adjoining counties. "Hexerei" entered into the case when two cabalistic notes were found pinned to the body of the girl's dress when the body was discovered, and when it was learned that she and many of her relatives were believers in "pow-wowism."

Generally known as a "pow-wow man," Belles, the investigation has disclosed, treated hundreds of persons who believe in the efficacy of witchcraft in relieving them of all kinds of ills.

When Verna Delp left her home at Green Pond last Friday morning she told her parents she was going to visit Belles, whom, they say, she had gone to see at least eight or nine times before.

Police say they have a witness who saw Belles drive the Gun Club grounds on Friday with a woman in the small sedan and later return unaccompanied. They also assert they have witnesses who saw Belles make several trips to the grounds on Saturday before the body was found.

A. & W. P. Announces Through Service To New Orleans

Trains will be routed over the Atlanta and West Point from Atlanta to Montgomery, and over the Louisville and Nashville from there to New Orleans.

Through service on schedule has been interrupted since the beginning of high water.

Mr. Billups also announced resumption of service on the L. & N.'s Pensacola division.

GEORGIA GLEE CLUB AT BRENAU TONIGHT

University Group Begins Tour of State—Visit Atlanta April 11.

Athens, Ga., March 22.—(Special)—The University of Georgia Glee Club will play in Atlanta, Augusta, Savannah, and 11 other towns and cities in the state this year. The itinerary will start March 23 when they play at Gainesville in the Brenau auditorium, and will conclude with a performance in Atlanta, April 11.

According to Mr. Hodgson, the club this year will comprise about 50 men, and will offer a program well above the average amateur performance. The first act will be informal in nature and will be featured with solos, chorus work, the male quartet, instrumental numbers, and four specialty acts including jazz harmonies by the Four Horseman Orchestra.

Talent for the specialty acts was discovered by Mr. Hodgson last fall at university stunt night which was sponsored by the students. The best of these acts will make the trip with the club.

A feature of the show, according to the management, will be Works of Magic, an act conducted by Lindsey Hopkins, of Atlanta, and students in the university, in which several tricks that will mystify the eye will be performed. Mr. Hopkins is no stranger to the stage, it is reported, and is decidedly clever in this field.

The instrumental club will feature a medley of waltzes. This group will include the "Merry Widow," "Jeannine," (sung); "Beautiful Lady," "Venetian Love Song," (sung); "Dream of Heaven," and "Chocolate Soldier."

The concluding act of the show this year will be the traditional high court of the Red and Black in which comedy by two clever black faced men, solos and chorus work will be featured. Jack Parr, Athens, will give a short, chalk talk in this act in which familiar scenes from the campus will be depicted.

The following is the itinerary for this year: March 23, Gainesville; March 28, Monroe; March 29, Warrenton; March 30, Milledgeville; April 1, Augusta; April 2, Waynesboro; April 3, Statesboro; April 4, Savannah; April 5, Valdosta; April 6, Fitzgerald.

POLICE PUZZLED OVER ATTACK ON GA. STUDENT

Athens, Ga., March 22.—(AP)—University of Georgia authorities and city police today were puzzled by the attack on J. T. Persalls, a graduate student of the university, who was found unconscious and bound and gagged in the laboratory of LeConte hall early this morning.

Persalls, whose home is in Cordele, did not regain consciousness until mid-morning, and was then unable to remember details of the attack. He knew only that a man wearing overalls entered the room and hit him on the head with what he thought to be a sandbag, he said. He was then carried to a cot in an adjoining room.

When found Persalls was bound with pieces of rope picked up in the laboratory, and was gagged with his own handkerchief. He apparently was not seriously injured.

The attack took place about midnight, Persalls said, while he was typing reports. He could not furnish a single clue as to the identity of the attacker, however, aside from that he wore overalls.

Dr. R. H. Boyd, head of the department of zoology, said he had thought the intruder was seeking grain alcohol kept in the laboratory for experimental purposes, but investigation disclosed that the locker in which the alcohol was kept had not been tampered with.

Peach Trees in Bloom. Summerville, Ga., March 22.—(Special)—Peach trees are in full bloom in Chatham county, and prospects are for another bumper crop, according to G. W. Arr, superintendent of the Georgia State Orchard Company, which owns one of the largest peach orchards in Chatham county.

At the bottom of the Earth!

...with the World's Greatest Exploration Party

NEVER since man first ventured forth in quest of the unknown, has an exploration party been so completely equipped and so thoroughly prepared as the Byrd Antarctic Expedition.

Even now...after the Byrd story has been told and retold...the public is not aware of the amazing perfection of detail which characterized the outfitting of this expedition.

Months before actual items were selected, a most exhaustive series of tests and experiments had been completed.

For example...the selection of food and beverages...very sinews of the giant Expedition...was accomplished with a thoroughness unique in the annals of exploration.

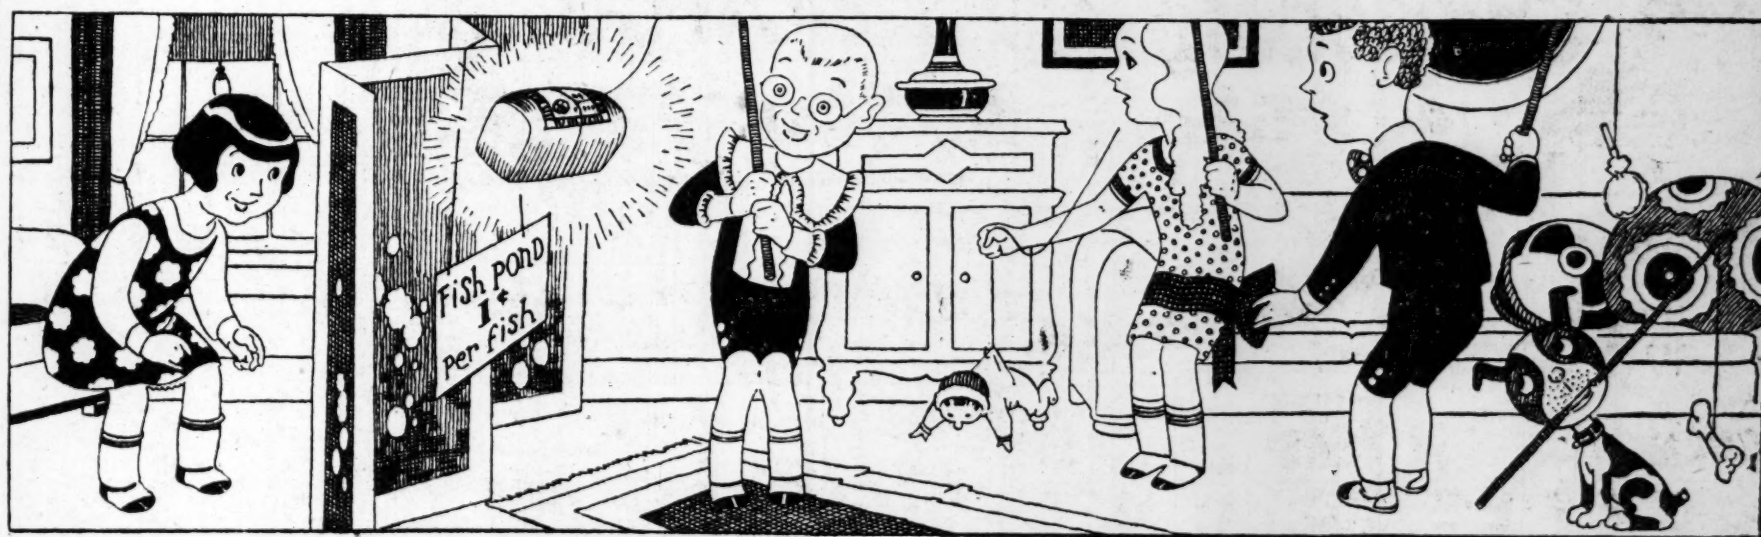

Coffee...the fragrant, steaming drink upon which Byrd's men depend to help ward off the chill of Antarctic temperature...was tested with particular care. Many coffees were given most searching tests before the final selection was made. And...

BYRD took BOKAR COFFEE!

Took 2½ tons of it! Took it because of Bokar's rare flavor...richness...smoothness...strength...because of its inimitable blending of the finest coffees of a whole continent...because the best was none too good for men working in such terrific cold.

Try Bokar tonight! Drink the same coffee Byrd's men are now enjoying on the desolate Antarctic ice barrier. The first sip will tell you why Bokar was the choice of the Byrd Expedition.

The OBOY GANG—PERCY LANDS THE GRAND PRIZE!

OBOY BREAD

THE BREAD THAT'S DEDICATED TO ALL CHILDREN BECAUSE IT'S SO GOOD FOR THEM

PERCY has never been much of a fisherman. But here's one big one that didn't get away! Of course the rest of the gang are envious of his luck.

Almost any boy or girl in town would consider it luck to land a prize like Percy's. Oboy bread has achieved a tremendous popularity here since its introduction several months ago. Novelty may have accounted for its first enthusiastic reception, but only quality—downright goodness—can explain its continued success. Try one luscious loaf for yourself and you'll understand.

Oboy's golden crust is crumbly, crisp and flaky. Oboy's snowy center is fine and smooth and sweet. Every slice is full of flavor—full of health and strength. Oboy lends itself superbly to any sort of serving. Taste it spread with butter, jam or jelly—in Brown Betty or Bread Pudding. Eat it toasted—French toast, cinnamon toast, milk toast, toast sticks—in any way you choose. We wager you'll say with the rest of the town, "Oboy"! Your grocer has it fresh from the ovens.

Hoover Orders Origin Quotas of Immigration Put Into Effect July 1

Congress Only Can Prevent Changes in Sizes of Quotas—Mitchell Cause of Move.

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—President Hoover, acting on a ruling of Attorney-General Mitchell but much against his own will, today issued a proclamation bringing into force on July 1 the much-controverted national origin quotas of the restrictive immigration act.

Only congress can prevent radical changes in the sizes of the quotas from most of the principal European countries, but there is evidence that the effort will be made at the special session beginning on April 15 and that the full influence of the administration will be put behind it.

Scarcely had the president's announcement of the proclamation been made before Representative Tilton, of Connecticut, the republican leader in the house, issued a formal statement expressing confidence that if the senate adopted a resolution repealing or further postponing the effective date of the national origins provision, it would "receive favorable attention by the house before July 1."

Most of the senate leaders are absent from Washington, but there is little doubt that a new resolution at least postponing the effective date will be introduced by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, or some of the other republicans opposed to the national origins provision, and pressed for action while the house is getting the tariff revision measure ready for senate consideration.

Failed to Approve.
After adoption by the house of such a resolution last session, the senate failed to approve the measure as opponents staged a filibuster which prevented its consideration during the closing hours, with their leader, Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, holding the floor much of the time.

President Hoover announced the issuing of the proclamation at his regular Friday press conference.

During his campaign for the presidency, Mr. Hoover several times declared for the principle of the 1890 census as the basis for immigration quotas, the basis being used. He also stated that he was opposed to any increase in present quotas except such as might be made necessary to bring about the reunion of families.

In his proclamation the chief executive said the quotas established by it were available only for persons who were eligible to citizenship in the United States and admissible under the immigration laws. He added the immigration quotas assigned to the various countries "are not to be regarded as having any political significance whatever, or as involving recognition of new governments, or of new boundaries, or of transfers of territory, except as the United States government has already made such recognition in a formal and official manner."

Lessens Quotas.
Under the national origins quotas the total of new immigration would be 153,714 yearly as against the present 164,647, but the real controversy has waged not around this reduction, but the changes made in the quotas of Germany, Norway and Sweden, the Irish Free State, and England, Scotland, Wales and northern Ireland.

The total for England, Scotland, Wales and northern Ireland would be increased from 34,007 to 65,721, while the quota for the Irish Free State would be reduced from the present 28,507 to 17,853.

Immigration from Germany would be cut from 51,227 to 25,357; that from Sweden would be reduced from 9,561 to 3,314, and that from Norway from 6,453 to 2,377.

The comparative quotas for the other countries would be: France 3,086 against the present 3,954; Italy, including Rhodes, 5,802 against 3,845; Spain 252 against 151; Russia, European and Asiatic 2,784 against 2,248; Rumania 295 against 603; Austria 1,413 against 785; Hungary 869 against 473; Belgium 1,304 against 512; Czechoslovakia 2,574 against 3,073; Netherlands 3,153 against 1,648; Poland 6,524 against 5,982; Denmark 1,181 against 2,789; Switzerland 1,707 against 2,081; Turkey 226 against 100; Yugoslavia 845 against 671; Finland 569 against 461; Greece 307 against 100; Australia, including Papua, 100 against 121; Armenia 100 against 124; Estonia 116 against 124; Latvia 236 against 142; Lithuania 386 against 344; Portugal 440 against 503; Free City of Danzig 100 against 228; Syria and the Lebanon, French, 123 against 100.

The annual quota for each nationality for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1929, and for each year thereafter, was announced in the president's proclamation to be as follows: Afghanistan, 100; Albania, 100; Andorra, 100; Arabian Peninsula, 100; Armenia, 100; Australia (including Tasmania, Papua, and all islands appertaining to Australia), 100; Austria, 1,413; Belgium, 1,304; Bhutan, 100; Bulgaria, 100; Cameroon (British mandate), 100; Cameroon (French mandate), 100; China, 100; Czechoslovakia, 2,574; Danzig, free city of, 100; Denmark, 1,181; Egypt, 100; Estonia, 116; Ethiopia (Abyssinia), 100; Finland, 569; France, 3,086; Germany, 25,357; Great Britain and northern Ireland, 65,721; Greece, 307; Hungary, 869; Iceland, 100; India, 100; Iraq (Mesopotamia), 100; Irish Free State, 17,853; Italy, 5,802; Japan, 100; Latvia, 236; Liberia, 100; Liechtenstein, 100; Lithuania, 386; Luxembourg, 100; Monaco, 100; Morocco (French and Spanish zones and Tangiers), 100; Muscat (Oman), 100; Nauru (British mandate), 100; Nepal, 100; Netherlands, 3,153; New Zealand, 100; Norway, 3,314; New Guinea, territory of, including appertaining islands, Australian mandate, 100; Palestine (with Transjordan (British mandate)), 100; Persia, 100; Poland, 6,524; Portugal, 440; Rumania, 295; Rundi (Belgian mandate), 100; Ru-

PERMIT IS ISSUED FOR SEARS-ROEBUCK $750,000 ADDITION

Plans and specifications for the $750,000 addition to the Ponce de Leon avenue plant of the Sears, Roebuck Company were given official approval Friday at the office of Charles J. Bowen, city building inspector. A permit was issued for the addition, construction of which now is well under way. The new section of the building adjoins the western end of the present structure and will be built to a height of nine stories, the same as the building proper.

Durham pleaded guilty Thursday to a larceny charge and was sentenced to serve two to three years on the state farm.

MESSANGER BOY HURT

Five-Ton Truck Passes Over Both His Legs.

Charles Brown, 15-year-old East Point messenger boy, had a narrow escape from death at noon Friday when a rear wheel of a five-ton truck passed directly over both his legs above the knees, and while inflicting painful cuts and bruises, did not fracture any bones.

According to police reports the accident happened at Marietta street and North avenue. The boy was said to have been riding along beside the big truck, belonging to the city and driven by H. L. Womack, of 68 Anderson street, when the machine made a sudden turn, striking the bicycle. The boy was knocked to the pavement, his leg falling directly in the path of the right rear wheel of the heavy truck. The boy was taken to Grady hospital where doctors found that the broad, hard rubber tires had badly bruised his legs. A case of reckless driving was made against Womack.

Rains Send Chattahoochee On Another Rampage; West Point in Danger Again

Overflow of Past Flooded
Streams Slowly Receding — Flint Is Nearing Normal Stage.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

An average 2.58 inch rainfall over the upper watershed of the Chattahoochee river last night and today sent that river far over its banks again and created another serious flood situation, according to government weather forecaster C. H. von Herrmann.

West Point, which has just experienced a flood of record-breaking proportions, may expect a high stage of 22 feet by Saturday night or Sunday, he said, and town and cities further down the river will suffer accordingly. The waters will not approach last week's figures generally, however.

The Flint, which has also been on a rampage for several days was not much affected by the latest rains, Mr. von Herrmann said, as it was not directly in the storm area. He also stated that the rise in the Chattahoochee would not noticeably affect the Apalachicola, in Florida, which has recently been above flood stage, but which was falling today.

Albany and Bainbridge continued in the grip of the slow receding flood waters of the Flint today, although a fall of more than a foot was noted in Albany. The river there stood at 22.3 this morning, however. Bainbridge still had a 28.1 gauge, an increase of .01 of a foot over the preceding day. Eufaula, Ala., on the Chattahoochee registered 23.2 feet while Alaga had 26.4.

Troubled skies should partially clear by tomorrow, Mr. von Herrmann said, with a possibility of scattered thunder showers. Little change in temperature was forecast. Newman, Ga., with four inches, had the highest rainfall over the past 24 hours, Atlanta had 2.80.

RED CROSS WORKER TO VISIT FLOOD AREA.

Albany, Ga., March 22.—(AP)—En route to Camilla, Ga., for a conference with social workers in charge of flood relief at Newton, Ga., Henry M. Baker, assistant director of disaster relief for the American Red Cross, passed through here this afternoon. He planned to go down the Georgia line tonight as far as Bainbridge, and from there swing into the devastated area of southeast Alabama, if highway conditions permit.

Mr. Baker with John A. Hendrix, assistant director of accounts of the Red Cross, are taking a survey of the flooded areas of Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi.

He did not plan to visit the town of Newton itself. Sufficient information is available in Camilla. From Bainbridge his itinerary will be governed by the condition of roads leading into Alabama. The party went on from here immediately after inquiring about road conditions. A detour by way of Pecan City was necessitated by flood waters over the Albany-Camilla road at River Bend.

The Red Cross officials came here from the Columbus, Ga., and Phenix City, Ala., district, where Mr. Baker said of 1,200 persons affected by the flood waters approximately 500 families were driven out of their homes. He said the Red Cross will assume responsibility for feeding homeless persons in that vicinity, on both sides of the Chattahoochee river, for at least ten days more. He wired H. B. Williamson, director of disaster relief in the southeastern states at Montgomery to send a trained family worker into the Phenix City area to assist Major Frank Green, of Fort Benning, Red Cross headquarters, for the next two or three weeks.

A local committee in Phenix City had received $300 for flood relief work, and the Columbus Red Cross had $500, it was reported.

Needs of the section were reported to Washington headquarters by wire. Mr. Baker said, for apportionment of funds.

Mr. Baker and his party completed a survey of Newton, Ga., flood-ridden for several weeks. After a trip by motor boat furnished by the Georgia Public Utilities Corporation, Mr. Baker reported to Washington.

"None were killed and none injured in the evacuation of this town 500 population. Two-thirds of community, about 40 houses and 20 business houses evacuated, and much of the town still under 12 to 15 feet of water. No sickness and no serious want among refugees, who are for the most part quartered comfortably with neighbors."

He recommended establishment of sanitary rules, and assignment of one Red Cross nurse to assist local physicians, and another to aid in rehabilitation within the next 15 days. He would also send a disaster relief worker to the town. Mr. Baker offered the resources of the Red Cross to Mayor J. B. Hall.

The trip was made after it was found that not enough information was available in Camilla on the Newton flood situation. Mr. Baker planned to go to Bainbridge, Ga., on the Flint river tomorrow. He understood there were 250 refugees from West Bainbridge there. His further itinerary will depend on circumstances, but he will go either into Florida or Alabama.

FORT GAINES HAS DRINKING WATER HAULED.

Fort Gaines, Ga., March 22.—(AP) Drinking water is being hauled into this city due to the flooded Chattahoochee river putting the water works plant out of order temporarily. The water is being brought in from a flowing well at the plant. One of the large city reservoirs was under

J. B. DUNWIDDIE HEADS GEORGIA ICE MAKERS

Election of J. B. Dunwiddie, of Atlanta, as president of the Georgia Ice Manufacturers' Association featured the closing session of the eleventh annual convention of that body Friday at the Henry Grady hotel. E. H. Diemmer, of Brunswick, was chosen vice president and Walter F. Cox, of Atlanta, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

H. W. Caldwell, of LaGrange, retiring president, was named chairman of the executive committee and the following members were named to the executive committee: D. C. Hancock, Cartersville; M. H. Goodwin, Thomasville; Wilshire Riley, Atlanta; A. B. Pope, Atlanta; Albert Dixon, Savannah; Tom Knight, Atlanta, and H. R. Creamer, of Augusta.

Presentation of the 1925 publicity campaign of the association and endorsement by the body of the cow, hog and hen program followed an address on the subject by A. E. Bishop, of Atlanta.

The program for 1925 was presented by Walter F. Cox, secretary, accompanied by a motion picture entitled "Romance of Ice."

"Use the advertising pages of your local newspapers constantly to keep your ice customers reminded of you and to teach them new ways to use it," was one of the main points brought out in a speech on "Local Advertising" before the association by Charlton Keen, prominent Atlanta advertising agency expert and secretary of Groves-Keen, Inc., local advertising agency.

Miss Margaret Kingsley, prominent authority of New York city, spoke of the profitable experiences of the household refrigerator bureau workers of the National Association of Ice Industries. Mrs. Julia Gray, of Atlanta, spoke on "Working With Community Groups and Employers," and Mrs. Kenneth Todd, of Gastonia, N. C., talked on "House to House Approach."

The convention began Thursday and included on the program speeches by prominent refrigeration authorities.

REV. DUNCAN SUFFERS NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Columbia, S. C., March 22.—(AP)—It is believed unlikely the Rev. Herman F. Duncan, whose disappearance from Charlotte created a widespread search for several days, will be able to take up his work again before next fall.

This was the opinion expressed here today by his father, the Rev. Watson B. Duncan, D. D., of Lake City, S. C., who, with his son, passed through Columbia en route home after an interview with Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon in Charlotte.

The Rev. Mr. Duncan failed to appear for church services at the Duncan Memorial church March 19 and was not discovered until several days later in Atlanta.

According to Dr. Duncan, he and his son had "very satisfactory" interviews with Bishop Mouzon and Rev. D. M. Litaker, presiding elder.

The young minister will remain at Lake City with his father where he will recuperate from a nervous breakdown due to overwork, his father said. An indefinite leave of absence has been granted by Bishop Mouzon.

Located in Atlanta after several days' search Mr. Duncan stated that his resignation from the Charlotte pulpit was final. He visited Dean Parker, of the Emory Theological school, while here.

CITIES OF GEORGIA TO BE REPRESENTED AT LIGHT HEARING

Several towns and cities served by the Georgia Power Company will send delegations to Atlanta to appear before the state public service commission, April 8, when that body hears a proposal to revise commercial lighting rates and retail power rates of that company. One delegation will come from Milledgeville, headed by Lee N. Jordan, prominent business man.

The flood waters, and it was decided to empty and clean and have the water tested before putting it back into service. The state board of health is expected to send a man here to assist local authorities in solving the problem.

Talmadge Will Attend U. S. Hearing on Ban On Butter Substitute

Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, and T. R. Gress, assistant attorney-general, went to Augusta Friday to attend a hearing to be held today in the federal court in that city involving the ban placed by Commissioner Talmadge on the sale of vegetable shortenings packed and colored like butter. Manufacturers of the product recently obtained a temporary injunction restraining the commissioner from enforcing his ban. The hearing Saturday is to determine whether or not the injunction will be dissolved.

The trip was made after it was found that not enough information was available in Camilla on the Newton flood situation. Mr. Baker planned to go to Bainbridge, Ga., on the Flint river tomorrow. He understood there were 250 refugees from West Bainbridge there. His further itinerary will depend on circumstances, but he will go either into Florida or Alabama.

5TH DISTRICT DEBATING CONTESTS UNDER WAY

First Round's Conclusion Finds Boys' High Technically First.

After the first rounds in the fifth district elimination debating contests Tech and Commercial High schools were tied with one win and one loss. Boys' High was technically first by virtue of a single win and Fulton lost because of one loss, but the standing of the latter two teams was not clear because of a postponed debate.

All schools had two teams and in each debate the negative side of the question won the unanimous decision of the judges. The question was: "Resolved: That Georgia should provide a bond issue for the construction of through-state highways."

Tech High won from Fulton at the Fulton auditorium and lost to Commercial at the Chamber of Commerce building. Commercial won from Tech and lost to Boys' High at the Commercial auditorium. The debate between Boys' and Fulton was postponed until Monday.

HUGE SPORTING RESORT MADE NEAR WAYCROSS

Waycross, Ga., March 22.—(Special.)—The announcement of the consolidation of all properties on Banks lake, and the actual launching of the development program for the largest inland sporting resort in Georgia, at the famous Banks lake at Lakeland, Ga., was announced here today, by John W. Greer, secretary and manager of the Banks Lake Development Company.

Banks lake is famous all over Georgia as one of the most prolific fishing grounds in this section of the United States and has long been known as "the fisherman's paradise." The property includes 11,000 acres covered by the lake, 3,500 of which are owned in fee simple by the company, with fishing and hunting rights adequately covering the remainder of the property.

In addition to hunting, fishing and power rights, an extensive improvement program is to be carried out, including the building of a grist mill for water ground meal, a swimming pool of mineral water coming from springs on the reservation, a pavilion and a nine-hole golf course, also club grounds along the lake front.

The property is that which has been consolidated largely through the efforts of E. D. Rivers, former state senator and a candidate last term for the governorship of Georgia. Mr. Rivers is president of the Izak Walton League of Georgia.

HOWELL MUST PAY DEATH PENALTY FOR KILLING MAN

Vauburn, Ark., March 22.—(AP)—W. H. Howell, 65, was convicted of first degree murder by a jury here last night in connection with the fatal shooting of Clifford Duffenbaugh, 44, superintendent of the Crawford county infirmary. Mrs. Duffenbaugh, 44, and an inmate, John Nicholson, 60, on last December 8. The penalty is death in the electric chair.

The killings followed Howell's discharge from the county farm for insubordination. He was captured in a cave where he held off a posse with gunfire for nearly a day. He was specifically convicted of having slain Nicholson.

Rain Continues, All-Time March Record Totters

Jupiter Pluvius, whose unusual period of extra-hour activity has put the total precipitation for the current month within a small fraction of an inch of the all-time March record, will renew operations hereabouts today, following a brief intermission during the daylight hours of Friday, according to the official forecast of the weather bureau, which calls for continued wetness without much change in temperature.

With precipitation since the first of the month totaling approximately 1.50 inches, a mere .07 of an inch from the March record of 1.57, all indications point to the establishment of a new mark, more rain being needed for today. Rainfall since the first of the year has mounted to 25.19, nearly twice the normal amount for this month of 1929, and more than half the normal yearly precipitation, which is 48.27. It is estimated that if there was no more rain between now and July 1, Atlanta still would be on even terms with the well-known June. Bureau officials also pointed out that rainfall so far this year is in excess of the first three months of 1921, the best year on record here.

Mr. von Hermann stated that the heavy rains of the past few days probably would cause flood stages to be reached on the Chattahoochee, but that no material damage would result. The river was reported as rising Friday afternoon and the crest of the latest rise will probably be reached at West Point and Columbus this morning or this afternoon, he stated. Other rivers will not be affected, he said.

Not to be outdone in the matter of new records, the mercury in the official thermometer went on a little jag all its own Friday and reached a maximum of 76 for the day, which is the highest so far recorded this year. The minimum was 58.

Similar figures are expected for today but let anyone get too confident regarding the arrival of spring, it might be pointed out that March 30 is the average date of the last killing frost while the latest day on record for such a catastrophe is April 17. This occurred in 1905, however, and no more real cold weather is scheduled for the furnace overtime in this vicinity.

STANDING BEFORE MIRROR, MEMPHIS MAN SHOTS SELF

Memphis, Tenn., March 22.—(AP)—Standing before a mirror in the bathroom of his apartment, Frederick M. Gemmill, 48, a former member of the state legislature and president of a tire company, fired a bullet into his head today and died a few minutes later. Members of his family blamed ill health for his suicide.

Going To Watch Fire, Children See Mother Carried Out Dead

Chicago, March 22.—(AP)—It was recess time at the Arlington Heights school, and someone shouted: "Ge, kids, there's a fire!"

Walter, Ruth and Adeline Wells, children of Mrs. Anna Louise Wells, ran toward the blaze. What youngster doesn't get a thrill out of a fire? They drew nearer and saw it was their own home.

What is that? Firemen are carrying a woman out! It looks like—yes, she's dead!

Three children, sobbing now, clung close to each other under the pall of smoke from their home as an ambulance drove slowly away with the body of their mother.

CONSERVATIVES LOSE IN BRITISH ELECTION

Labor and Liberal Parties Gain Seats; Lloyd George Sees Victory.

London, March 22.—(AP)—The ministerial general election held this week has shown a general decline in conservative voting strength as well as the loss of three of the five seats contested. All were held at the last general election by conservatives, but the liberals stepped in at Eddisbury and Holland and labor took North Lanark. The government party retained East Toxteth and Bath.

Labor leaders saw a portent in the sweeping success of J. Blundell at Boston-With-Holland, where he more than doubled the liberal vote at the last general election. David Lloyd George, the party leader, in his congratulatory telegram, said: "It is a crushing achievement. The Tory government is discredited beyond repair."

The claim by Lloyd George that the liberal program offers a cure of the unemployment trouble in two years without cost to the taxpayer seems to be doing its intended work although both labor and conservative speakers have ridiculed both its chances of ultimate success and its value as a temporary measure.

The victory for labor of Miss Jenny Lee at North Lanark was almost as striking. She converted a conservative majority of 2,026 into a labor majority of 6,558 over a score of the conservative candidate, Miss E. B. Mitchell, liberal, ran a weak third.

The election of Miss Lee raised to 40, a record number, of female members in the house of commons. Miss Lee, whose father never earned more than $15 a week, was the first working class woman to graduate as a lawyer in Britain.

All recent by-elections have resulted in large reduction of the conservative vote with gains in the labor and liberal columns. In 30 by-elections the conservatives lost 15, labor gained 11, liberals 2 and independents 2.

ENRIGHT HITS HANDLING OF ROTHSTEIN CASE

Paris, March 22.—(AP)—Richard E. Enright, former police commissioner of New York, thinks the real "inside" of the murder of Arnold Rothstein, New York gambler, has been made plain and that in not running down the murderer New York police have missed their greatest chance to clean out graft and crime.

"Rothstein's papers even contained signed names which some day will be placed in the Hall of Fame," he told the American Club in an address last night.

"Why wasn't the case handled differently? Why weren't those papers given any publicity? Why wasn't there a thorough search to a successful conclusion which would have rocked the very foundations of New York society and political life?"

The former police commissioner did not answer his own questions but he let it be inferred those implicated were too influential.

"Prison reform has been carried too far. Our prisoners are comforted and entertained. Even educated criminals do not fear punishment. They are too beautifully entertained. They have tennis, baseball, ping pong, and there is even a movement about to give them golf."

WHALES REPLIES TO ENRIGHT STATEMENT

New York, March 22.—(AP)—The statement made in Paris by former Police Commissioner Enright, that the names of distinguished persons were signed to papers found among the effects of the late Arnold Rothstein drew the following comment today from Police Commissioner Whelan.

"If former Commissioner Enright is possessed of any information that has been a hindrance to a good citizen of New York to lay it before the grand jury rather than to make speeches before luncheon clubs in Paris."

CALIFORNIA GRAPE MEN TO PROTECT INTERESTS

San Francisco, March 22.—(AP)—Reports that President Hoover's projected prohibition investigating commission would turn its attention to the many vineyards in which California wine grapes are being consumed brought announcement from producing organizations today that steps were being taken to protect the industry from any drastic regulation.

The Chronicle said Donald D. Cohen, head of the California Vineyardists' Association, is in Washington to oppose any move toward restriction of grape shipments or distribution of unfermented grape juice.

Edgar M. Sheehan, president of the California Grape Growers' Exchange, announced that he had been informed an investigation of the use of wine grapes was contemplated.

"We are of the opinion that this investigation is not designed to trace a small quantity of grapes into the home," said Sheehan. "Our understanding is that only those who may reasonably be suspected of making wine in commercial quantities are to be sought. There is no question but the bulk of grapes shipped from California are made into wine."

"Section 29 of the Volstead Act makes it legal for a householder to produce fruit juices and free the householder from penalties in case nature causes fermentation, regardless of the alcoholic content thus developed. The old internal revenue act providing for the reporting of fruit crushing has not been in force for three years."

"I have heard that an attempt may be made to repeal this section of the law."

Sheehan said a process by which grape juice could be dehydrated, reducing its volume 75 per cent for shipping purposes, had been perfected and is being relied upon to take care of the over-production problem.

Scene of Pennsylvania Mine Disaster

Associated Press Telephoto. The Kinloch mine in Parnassus, Pa., where an unknown number of miners lost their lives in an explosion which practically wrecked the entire mine. At the time of the disaster 250 men were working in the mine.

MINE TOLL MAY REACH 55 IS NOW FEARED

Parnassus, Pa., March 22.—(AP)—Hope for nine miners unaccounted for in Kinloch mine, where 46 were known to have died in an explosion yesterday, was on the wane tonight.

Joy spread through the little mining village of Kinloch early tonight when an official of the Valley Camp Coal Company reported that three of the missing men had been found, but the report proved erroneous.

Cheers rang out in the emergency hospital when instructions were given to prepare for the care of three miners who were said to have found their way to an air shaft. But the hopes of rescue workers, company officials and members of the miners' families were cast down when it was learned that the three were rescue workers. They had toiled long hours in the mine and had made their way to the air shaft, where they were seen and mistaken for three of the entombed men.

With hopes shattered rudely, the rescue workers pressed on in their search for the missing. Fresh crews were sent into the mine tonight.

Forty-one bodies were yet to be brought to the surface.

CANADIAN SOLON SENT TO PRISON FOR NINE YEARS

Ottawa, Ont., March 22.—(AP)—Louis M. Auger, the youngest member of the Canadian parliament until he resigned yesterday, was sentenced to nine years' imprisonment today for assaulting a young girl who went to his office in the parliament building to seek his advice. He strongly protested he was innocent, and asserted he had been convicted through perjury.

Auger, who is 27 years old, is the first member of the house of commons ever to be sent to the penitentiary. He was elected member for Prescott county at the federal elections in 1926, when only 24 years old, defeating three opponents. His resignation will necessitate a bye-election.

He was convicted Wednesday after a two-day trial, the jury recommending mercy. Miss Laurence Martel, of Hawkesbury, Ont., the 17-year-old plaintiff, testified she went to Auger's office to ask him to show her the proper method of filling out an application for a civil service position, and that while she was there he attacked her.

Macon, Ga., March 22.—(AP)—Work of digging into the Indian mounds of East Macon, started a few days ago by city street forces to repair washed streets and carried on yesterday and today by children of the community, in quest for relics, was stopped tonight.

The mounds are on property owned by the Central of Georgia railway. Prominent citizens appealed to the railroad to preserve the property until the exploration can be made by scientists under the direction of possibly the Smithsonian Institute of Washington, D. C.

More relics were brought to the surface today, along with hundreds of beads.

There are three mounds in the group, only one having been disturbed.

Hoover Orders Mayflower Decommissioned for Economy

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—Then consequent need for an increased personnel, the officers and crew of the presidential yacht Mayflower was ordered decommissioned today by President Hoover so that her officers and crew may be available for manning new warships and an annual saving of $300,000 in federal funds effected. The president, it was said at the White House, feels that in view of the expansion needs of the navy and for reasons of governmental economy the maintenance of the vessel is no longer warranted. Moreover, although Mr. Hoover has been an extensive traveler, he has no particular liking for the sea and prefers to spend his hours of relaxation with rod and reel along quiet woodland streams rather than in cruising on the yacht.

The cost of maintaining the ship has been $300,000 a year, a sum which Mr. Hoover feels the government could use advantageously in other ways. In addition, he believes that with new ships coming into the navy and with personnel, the officers and crew of the Mayflower should be free for new assignments. Decommissioning the ship will leave nine officers, 21 petty officers, 130 enlisted men and 21 marines available for other assignments. It also will enable Lieutenant Commander Joel T. Boone, master of the ship, to devote his entire attention to his duties at the White House.

Although built in Scotland, the Mayflower was destined to become an important unit in the American navy. The United States acquired the ship by purchase in 1898 for use in the Spanish-American war and later she became the flagship of Admiral Dewey and from the Roosevelt administration to the present time the ship was used almost exclusively as a presidential yacht.

Lake Drummond Canal Purchase Approved For Inland Waterway

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—The war department today approved the purchase of Lake Drummond canal for $490,000 as a part of the inland waterway from Norfolk, Va., to Beaufort, N. C. The purchase was authorized by the rivers and harbors act of 1925.

The canal, commonly known as the Dismal Swamp canal, is about 22 1/2 miles long and extends from Deep creek, an arm of the Elizabeth river

Policies of Democrats Have Prevailed in Regime So Far, Caraway Declares

Arkansas Comforted by Methods Used by Hoover in Discarding Old Party Traditions.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, March 22.—Despite the overwhelming majority polled by the republicans in the last national elections, Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway, democrat of Arkansas, is finding comfort in the thought, as he sees it, that democratic policies have prevailed in the first two weeks of the new administration.

By way of "rubbing it in" on his republican colleagues, the Arkansas senator has reminded them that President Hoover, not once, but several times, has already given evidence of discarding many of their party's old traditions and customs. In view of this, he thinks the democrats may look forward to great influence in Washington during the next four years.

Although the president started out by ignoring the south in forming his cabinet, he did name two democrats in the Secretary of the Navy, Adams, of Massachusetts, and Attorney General Mitchell, the former voted the democratic ticket consistently up until a few years ago, while Mr. Mitchell admitted before a senate committee that he was a member of the minority party, Senator Caraway declared.

Aside from this, the senator points out that the recent executive order calling for publicity in tax reform and the president's advocacy of a moderate tariff revision, are both in keeping with democratic policy.

Thought a Democrat.
"Mr. Hoover at one time was thought to be a democrat," said Senator Caraway. "The republicans accepted him reluctantly, fearing he still carried the influence of the minority party without foundation. During the few days he has been in office he has struck down the understanding in the cabinet that had existed since Harding's day between the department of the interior and the Doehens and Sinclairs. He demoted First Assistant Secretary Finney of the interior department, whose passive connection with Fall and Doherty and Sinclair has been a subject of criticism. Mr. Hoover's announcement that there will be no more leasing of oil reserves goes as far as any democrat could ask."

"His adoption of publicity for treasury tax reform is another principle which the democrats have consistently advocated. The explanation he is reported to have made later that the order for publicity was Mr. Mellon's own view will make every one but Mr. Mellon smile. The order is in line with what the democratic party has insisted on and the republicans resisted it with all the vigor he possessed in two letters he wrote about it."

Always Agreed.

"Furthermore, a statement which I have seen attributed to the president that congress would induce the farm bill will give the democratic party a chance to write farm relief legislation, because the democrats and the progressive republicans have always agreed on farm legislation. The president's declaration that he is going to enforce all the laws is also good democratic doctrine, and his policy, if correctly reported, that there will be no general increase of tariff rates, is certainly in opposition to the platform of republicans who want a prohibitive tariff, and is therefore half democratic."

"Mr. Hoover starts well. It is doubtful, however, if the Mellons and the Smoots at present induce this declaration. If Mr. Hoover continues as he has commenced the democratic party is in a position to exert a most effective influence in this administration, for the president will soon find himself supported by the democrats in congress. And if not openly opposed by the republicans, at least half-heartedly supported.

"The real test will come when farm legislation is formulated. We shall then be able to determine whether agriculture is to be given a new lease of life or will be allowed to languish and almost perish, so that the export field will be left to the manufacturing industries alone."

"I wonder," said Senator Caraway, "if after all the republicans were mistaken at Kansas City and nominated a democrat instead of a republican."

4-Year-Old Boy's Life Threatened By Cut on Finger

Because he is a victim of hemophilia, a rare and dangerous blood condition, a tiny cut today threatens the life of little John H. Christy, four-year-old son of Mrs. J. H. Christy, of a West View drive address, as doctors at Grady hospital are desperately seeking to stop the blood which has flowed from the cut for more than three weeks.

Hemophilia, doctors explained, is a very rare condition in which the blood has no power to coagulate, the element which causes coagulation apparently being absolutely lacking.

That the cut was a "bleeder"—as the victims of this malady are known—was not discovered until February 1, when, at his home, he received a little cut on a finger. The blood flowed freely and did not stop after bandaging or after exposure to the air. After more than a day had passed the flow had only partially stopped and as day after day went by the mother became alarmed and finally consulted a doctor.

Employing ordinary means to speed coagulation, the doctor was unable to secure results, and on Thursday the lad was sent to the hospital. Here the efforts made met with little success and late Friday, as the child grew steadily weaker from the steady, slight, loss of blood, it was decided to attempt a blood transfusion within the next few days.

POWER MEN SPEND $800,000 IN CALIFORNIA

Utility Quiz Hears Testimony of Activity in Pacific Coast State.

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—The expenditure of more than $800,000 during 1928 by power interests in California for public relations work was related today in testimony before the federal trade commission investigation into publicity activities of public power utilities.

Walter L. Frost, of Los Angeles, former president of the Pacific Coast Electrical Association, testified that his organization, which is a branch of the National Electric Light Association, expended $32,500 during the past year. Testimony given last week by Victor M. Hartley, secretary of the California Electric Bureau, who had told of the spending last year of $50,000 by his organization, was reviewed by Robert E. Healy, commission counsel.

Frost said his organization had contributed in 1928 $64,000 to the national association, which had refunded to the Pacific coast group half of that amount to be expended in that section. He testified that the Pacific Coast Electrical Association embraced California, Arizona, Nevada, the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines.

Questioned on the activities of another organization, the Light and Power Association, Frost said this body was composed of executives of power companies and that he was not a member of it. He said the Light and Power Association had engaged in the study of rural electrification and "has co-operated with some University of California professor" in this work. He added that there had been no payments to any colleges or professors for this work, but that the association expended between $5,000 and $8,000 a year upon the study.

Does anybody else beside the power companies contribute to this work?" asked Healy.

"I cannot say authoritatively, but I think some of the farm organizations contribute," Frost replied.

He testified also that the Pacific Coast Electrical Association last year had given $250 to the University of California for conducting an extension course in training meter men. He added that this organization in 1927 had formed a committee to co-operate with educational institutions under the plan of the National Electric Light Association, but he said he was unable to describe the committee's activities.

tion, which it has been developing with no compromises whatever, raised itself as an obstacle to the ambition of these men, and this doubtless was the main cause of their rebellion against the government.

Further, the policies of the government, which aim at improvement of the material and economic conditions of the working classes, were also considered by those chiefs as directed against their own wishes, in view of the fact that they had been large landholders and controlled certain industries, and felt no longer identified with a government of advanced ideas.

He added that the government, at the service of oppressing capitalism, which they helped in many cases by murdering peasants, as in the state of Chihuahua, they had been forced to turn to the United States for aid.

As soon as the government learned of the rebellious movement it proceeded to order mobilizations to crush it. This, he said, was the beginning of the civil war which has been organized, as well as the column which, commanded by the secretary of war and the navy, General Plutarco Calles, has triumphed and advanced toward the north of the republic, retaking, within a few days, the states of Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Durango, which had been controlled by the rebels through a surprise.

While this mobilization took place, he said, the government was endeavoring to defend the government and fight the disloyal forces, and who, in many cases, have gained decisive victories.

At present these units are protecting towns in various states, and maintaining order along the railroad lines and roads. Not a single instance of disorder or lack of discipline has been filed against them.

This undoubtedly has been one of the main influences in the demoralization of the rebel forces, which he has been convinced that the humble classes of the country unanimously support and defend the government because they feel the government has inflicted no losses, mainly because of the damage done, is after all a natural phenomenon in a people who are yet going through the formative period.

I also believe that in the long run it will prove highly beneficial to the country. The abnegation displayed by the rebels, and the loyalty of the people in rallying to the defense of the institutions embodied in a civilian government, the rapidity with which the rebellion has been crushed, and the way in which military elements within the enemy units hastened to avow their loyalty to the government as soon as they had an opportunity to do so, are eloquent and speak loudly in favor of authority.

Because of the war events are changing and because of the victorious advance of the government's forces, it is possible to believe that the rebellious movement, which essentially is a military one, conducted by military chiefs, will finish within a few days.

With the states of Vera Cruz, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Durango again controlled by the government, only the states of Sonora and Chihuahua remain in possession of the rebels.

These territories will undoubtedly be retaken as soon as the columns which are marching against the states are able to repair the railroad lines destroyed by the enemy, and to establish contact with the coast guard in order to fight and crush them.

Got Case Thursday

The jury took the case shortly after 6 o'clock Thursday night, pondered over the evidence until about 9:30 o'clock, when it was sent to the Henry Grady hotel for the night.

Returning to the jury room at 9 o'clock Friday morning the deliberations were resumed and continued all day, save for an hour's interruption for lunch between 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Judge Humphries arrived at his chambers almost simultaneously with the jury and remained in his offices until mid-afternoon, when he went to his residence, saying that if the jury had anything to communicate with him he would return to the courthouse on October 16. By the next day, however, he returned to the courthouse to send the jurors back to the hotel a second time.

HORSE LOVERS ENJOY 1929 SAVANNAH SHOW

Savannah, Ga., March 22.—(AP)—Horse lovers of Savannah, Camden, S. C., and other places this afternoon attended the first day's events of the 1929 horse show of the Savannah Horse and Driving Club at its arena southeast of the city. The size of the crowd, the galaxy of fine animals and their quality performances made the show one of the most successful ever staged here.

King Edward, a chestnut stallion entered by the St. Andrews Riding Academy of Charleston, and the Chestnut, chestnut gelding recently acquired by E. T. Sheffall and ridden by Miss Sara E. Sheffall, of Savannah, were the outstanding horses of the show.

In the four classes King Edward entered two first prizes, one third and one fourth were carried away by him, while the Chestnut in three events, captured two first and one second prize. It was the initial appearance of the Chestnut in a Savannah show.

Red Flash, a chestnut mare, owned by R. Horace Johnston, Charlotte, N. C., took one first and two second prizes in the three events. The mare, of George S. Clarke, Savannah, won two second, one third and one fourth prize for her owner.

"Mr. Quality Queen," another of the Sheffall horses, won several trophies to her credit, won two second and one fourth prize, while "Anna Forrest," a white Arabian, took a third ribbon in the combination fire-gated saddle and harness horse class.

Excellent weather greeted the first day of the horse show, as a brilliant sun beamed down on the ring. The women's costumes with their gay variety of colors, reflected the sparkle and vivacity inspired by the weather. The men, in their dark suits, stood in the background, looking on with interest.

Skinny Folks Gain Pounds of Solid Flesh

Physicians tell us that loss of flesh is due to impure blood and the degeneration of the vital organs called glands, which manufacture each day several quarts of secretions which are distributed throughout the body.

If the glands degenerate and the blood is of poor quality the organs are weak, our strength fails and we quickly lose weight.

Virogen, the new blood builder, it is generally agreed, is a scientific means of restoring the glandular functions and blood-forming organs of the body. It possesses the remarkable power of enriching the blood, clearing the skin, driving out impurities, and the system, satisfying nerve and gland hunger. Corrects the underlying causes of loss of flesh and weakened vitality.

If you are thin, weak, nervous—give it to yourself to test the virtues of this famous prescription.

MARSHAL FOCH'S BODY TURNED OVER TO STATE

Family See His Face for Last Time as Nation Claims Its Hero.

Paris, March 22.—(AP)—The family of Marshal Foch looked upon the great soldier's face for the last time today. Then his grateful country took charge of his body which will be laid to rest in the Invalides on Tuesday alongside that of Napoleon.

This afternoon and evening the people of Paris, rich and poor, young and old, stood for hours under a chilly drizzle for the privilege of passing through the mortuary chamber where the body of the great hero lay in closed coffin covered by the flag of France upon which rested a silver crucifix.

From mid-day until long after midnight the thousands who waited in front of the Foch home had been closed, thousands waited patiently on the sidewalks for their turn to pass the coffin. They waited in silence and during the evening hours they waited in the rain, each to pay his modest homage to their great military leader.

The thousands who took their farewells of Foch yesterday and the thousands who followed them through the craphouse doors of his home today were but the forerunners of the tens and tens of thousands who will do him homage after his body is taken to the Arc de Triomphe on Sunday.

Any ceremony of the body will be taken from the home on Sunday morning and placed near the tomb of the unknown soldier. There, guarded by the French army, the body will remain until Monday night when the bier will be placed in the Cathedral of Notre-Dame de la Charente.

All the regiments of France will send a detachment to escort the body from Notre-Dame to its last resting place in the Invalides and there will be military delegations from among the regiments. The body will be accompanied by men selected from the troops who protect the capital and from the Twentieth Army Corps of which the marshal was commander when the world war began.

Servant Tells of Parties Held on Board Inman Yacht

POETIC LOVE LETTERS DESCRIBED

Reno, Nev., March 22.—(AP)—Further evidence bearing on charges of Walker P. Inman, that his wife "ran wild" and engaged in love affairs with other men before he separated from her in 1927, was presented today in the divorce suit brought by the wealthy son of Mrs. James B. Duke, widow of the tobacco magnate.

Under cross-examination, Charles Miller, Inman's chauffeur, reiterated testimony that he had driven Mrs. Inman and others to various places where she had become intoxicated. On two occasions when Mrs. Inman drank heavily, she tore off her clothing, Miller said, and he covered her with a table cloth.

Such parties, he said, also had been held on the Inman yacht. The chauffeur testified he left Mrs. Inman's employ because she accused him of taking a ring. He contended she had misplaced or lost the ring.

Inman and his wife, the daughter of a Kokomo, Ind., clergyman, were seated a few feet apart in the courtroom, from which all spectators were barred because of the nature of the testimony. They took little notice of each other.

Love letters, couched in poetic and endearing terms, were read into the record. They were alleged to have been written to Mrs. Inman by John Steele, singer, named by Inman in the complaint against his wife.

Counsel for Inman indicated they would bitterly oppose the plea of Mrs. Inman for a property settlement of $250,000, which she asked in filing a counter-suit for divorce.

MRS. INMAN CALLED TO STAND FOR HUSBAND.

Reno, Nev., March 22.—(Special.) Involving a new Nevada statute enacted by the legislature, attorneys for Walker P. Inman, sprung a surprise today in the divorce suit instituted by Inman against his wife by calling her to the stand as a witness for the plaintiff to identify a letter purported to have been written by her to Bill Grant, who is one of the men named in the case by Inman.

Objections of Mrs. Inman's attorneys to the procedure were overruled by the judge when he was shown the copy of the Nevada law which provided for adverse witnesses being placed on the stand to testify. Mrs. Inman admitted writing the letter, filled with endearing terms, but said she tore it up immediately and that Inman got the pieces from a waste basket. Mrs. Sarah McKenna, of Brooklyn, was called as a witness and identified several letters written by Mrs. Inman concerning her domestic affairs.

Reports current here that Inman is to wed Mrs. Julia Marconi Lippa, a dancer, if he secures a divorce were given more weight today when the name of the dancer was brought into the case by attorneys for Mrs. Inman. Charles Miller, chauffeur for Inman, testified under cross-examination that Mrs. Lippa had visited the Inman home about six months ago from Lloyd Lippa, silk manufacturer of Bethlehem, Pa.

Opera rehearsal held final services "La Traviata" is presented by Emilio Volpi.

An opera rehearsal of "La Traviata," Verdi's opera in three acts, was presented Friday night at Ampico Hall by Emilio Volpi under auspices of the Circolo Italiano of Atlanta, many of which participated in the opera.

Roles in the opera were sung by Nora Allen-Volpi, Louise Huddleston, Thelma Firestone, S. R. Callaway, Guido Negri, Clyde Dudley, Frank McMillan, J. A. Clark and Rowland Wilcox.

Members of the chorus were Mrs. W. P. Brizes, Miss Thelma Firestone, Miss Mary Fornara, Miss Irene Harvey, Miss L. Huddleston, Mrs. H. S. Dudley, Miss Evelyn Parkinson, Miss J. Jordan, Miss Merrill McMichael, Joseph Berlin, S. R. Callaway, Clyde Dudley, Oscar Gershon, J. A. Clark, Frank McMillan, H. S. Dudley, Guido Negri and Rowland Wilcox.

Georgia and Alabama, a total of $100 was subscribed. The fund will be turned over to the Atlanta chapter of the American Red Cross, Mrs. Hornly announced.

Officers of the Atlanta branch of the Needlework Guild of America, have been called by Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, the president, to meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Plans by which the guild can best serve the stricken thousands in the flood areas will be discussed.

Mrs. Stevenson stated Friday that during the Mississippi floods in 1928 the Atlanta branch of the guild provided 6,000 garments, of which half were new and half were collected and repaired under direction of Mrs. W. H. Moor, emergency chairman. The Women's Benefit association, Mrs. Stevenson stated, at that time gave the guild one of their hall for work on these garments.

$200 Is Sent.

Mrs. Horace M. Holden, of Athens, state president of the American Legion auxiliary, department of Georgia, announced Friday that she has received a telegram from national headquarters of the auxiliary at Indianapolis, saying that $200 was being sent to aid in flood work in Georgia.

Mrs. Holden stated also that the Georgia auxiliary had recently contributed $1,000 for the flood sufferers in Alabama.

Number Needing Aid.

In a long telegram sent to the local disaster committee Friday night the relief headquarters at Montgomery, Ala., gave data on the number of persons needing immediate relief. At Elba it was reported that 1,200 were without food, shelter or clothing and being fed by the Red Cross relief workers. At Geneva, Ala., 5,000 were reported homeless, of these 1,200 are being sheltered in tents, while others are living in such public buildings as remain standing, while nearly all are dependent upon the relief workers for food.

At Elba, Ala., 1,200 were reported affected by the flood and in need either of food and clothing or medical aid. At Brewton, Ala., the workers are struggling with the problem of 4,000 homeless persons, only 500 of whom now are sheltered in tents and practically all of whom are on rations distributed by the Red Cross. Scores of families from other smaller towns have appealed to the workers for aid of various kinds.

Red Cross workers are in the field at every point now and are working day and night, making the best of their somewhat limited resources in efforts to stay the ravages of hunger while seeking at the same time to keep pestilence from gaining a foothold among the undernourished, shelterless thousands.

New Flood Feared.

Decision on Contract For Natural Gas Here Is Expected Wednesday

Judge H. C. Allen Believes That Engineers Will Have Their Reports
Ready by Tuesday.

Promise of "something definite" by Wednesday in negotiations between the Central Public Service Corporation and the Southern Natural Gas Corporation for a city gas contract by which the Central Corporation would distribute here the natural gas piped in from Louisiana, was held out Friday night by Judge H. C. Allen, of Tulsa, general counsel of the natural gas company.

Colonel E. A. Pearce, president of the Central Public Service, and James Piper, counsel for that firm, left Friday for Baltimore, Md., and will return Tuesday morning. Judge Allen will leave today for North Carolina to spend the week-end. Donald F. McPherson, general counsel for the Central firm, will be in Atlanta Friday and will return Tuesday with Colonel Pearce.

Definite Move Seen.
Judge Allen said that he believes that the engineers will have finished their calculations and figures by Tuesday, and that on Wednesday a definite move may be announced. The rate schedules being worked out by the engineers have held up negotiations, and resulted in postponement of the special council committee meeting which had been set for Friday to consider an application by the natural gas firm for a franchise. Should an agreement be reached between the two companies by which the Central Public Service would distribute the natural gas here, a new franchise would not be needed, as the Atlanta Gas Light Company, purchased by Colonel Pearce's firm, already has one, it was said.

Councilman William E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, a member of a special council committee named to investigate a petition of the Southern Natural Gas Corporation for a franchise to lay and maintain a system of distribution mains in Atlanta, Friday concurred in the action of Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, chairman of the committee, in postponement of the hearing until next week, but indicated he would insist on an early session of the probing committee.

Officials of the Natural Gas Company and the Central Public Service Corporation, of Chicago, which recently acquired gas properties in Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi, have been in conference with a view of entering into a contract whereby the Chicago firm will distribute the natural gas product through mains which it already maintains. Unless this arrangement is completed within the next week, Mr. Saunders stated he would insist on start of the investigation.

Saunders' Statement.

Mr. Saunders' statement regarding the matter follows:
"As a member of the special council committee, appointed to consider the petition for a natural gas franchise in Atlanta, I am fully in accord with our chairman and agree with him in his postponement of the committee meeting for one week."

"I am not in favor of any further postponement and think after that time the committee should begin to function. The people have been promised a reduction in gas rates by the Natural Gas Company, and I want to see them get it at once. If these petitioners are in earnest, let them come before our committee and make their showing."

"I would like to know how the people will get a reduction in the price of gas if the present gas company and the Natural Gas Company combine. What I am most interested in is seeing the consumer get gas as cheap as possible, treating the company fairly. We, as councilmen and committee men, are not concerned in any combination of gas companies. For myself I want action that will be of help to the gas user."

Friday forwarded to Atlanta city officials a copy of resolutions adopted by the Decatur commissioners favoring distribution of natural gas in Atlanta and surrounding towns. The resolutions set out that Decatur is anxious to obtain the natural gas service, and realizes that this cannot be done unless Atlanta grants the franchise as requested.

THREE MEN DIE, $1,000,000 IS LOST IN PEORIA BLAZE

Peoria, Ill., March 22.—(AP)—Three men lost their lives and property valued at $1,000,000 was destroyed in a fire which swept through the Peoria market, a four-story business block in the heart of the business district, early today.

The victims were two firemen, Thomas O'Connor and Richard Teufel, killed when a stairway and wall collapsed, and the night watchman, Milton Strayer, who was found dead on the second floor.

Origin of the fire has not been determined definitely. Fire officials were investigating a report that a gas explosion preceded the flames.

HOOVER WILL PROPOSE NO SPECIFIC FARM BILL

Will Lend Aid To Measure
Drawn by Leaders But Keep Hands Off.

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—

President Hoover is ready to cooperate with the congressional committees in the formulation of a farm relief bill but he still feels that the presentation of a definite measure by himself would amount to an encroachment upon the prerogatives of congress.

This view emanated from the White House today after the time the representatives of the American Farm Bureau Federation arriving here for the opening of farm relief hearings called for a presentation of the administration's farm program to take place of the twice-vetted McNary-Haugen bill.

While Mr. Hoover will not propose an agricultural bill, he will lend aid to the McNary-Haugen bill, which he feels his views and the republican party's views on agricultural legislation were stated clearly in the last campaign, particularly by himself in his address at St. Louis.

Meanwhile, Arthur M. Hyde, the new secretary of agriculture, notified the senate agriculture committee today that he was leaving the city and would be unable to meet its request for his appearance at the opening of hearings on Monday. He said he had to return home to arrange some personal affairs.

Want Hoover Plan.

Congressional leaders have been hoping for a definite Hoover formula for farm relief. Learning that he would not undertake to draft a bill, they turned to Mr. Hyde and asked him to present the administration plan.

Chairman McNary, of the senate agriculture committee, who issued the invitation to Secretary Hyde, expressed pleasure tonight at the prospect of a working arrangement between congress and Mr. Hoover in the final formulation of the new farm bill.

A co-author of the bill twice vetted by Calvin Coolidge, Senator McNary last session redrafted his former measure, eliminating the controversial equalization fee provision. He is one of the republican leaders who believe the bill includes the principles of farm relief outlined by the president in his campaign.

So it is likely that this bill, calling for a federal farm board with a $300,000,000 revolving fund, with which to assist cooperative marketing associations in the establishment of marketing control surplus crops, will be the basis of discussion at the committee hearings starting next week.

Ask Hoover's Ideas.

However, the vanguard of the farm leaders coming here for the hearings including the officers of the American Farm Bureau Federation, called today for an administration declaration. This organization led the fight for the old McNary-Haugen measure.

"We want to hear what the administration wants," were the first words of Chester Gray, spokesman for the federation. "We are pledged to consider any plan to be proposed by the administration that is better than our proposal embodied in the McNary-Haugen bill."

Officials of the federation arriving here today included S. H. Thompson, president; E. A. O'Neal, vice president; George M. Putnam and Charles E. Hearse, legislative representatives. They will be among the first of the group to go before the senate committee at the opening of hearings Monday.

LOBBY OF CONGRESS HOTEL IN CHICAGO RAIDED BY DRY MEN

Chicago, March 22.—(AP)—Prohibition agents today raided the lobby of the fashionable Congress hotel in Michigan avenue and seized three bellboys who were alleged to have sold liquor to guests.

Prohibition Administrator E. C. Yellowley himself resides at the Congress hotel. Undercover agents were reported to have made an investigation there. They swooped into the lobby and seized a bell captain and two aides. They also were hunting for five other bellboys who they said had delivered liquor to guests. One of them made his escape shortly before the raid by doffing his uniform on the roof.

George H. Hurlbut, assistant to Yellowley, who directed today's raid, said he intended to ask George E. Q. Johnson, United States attorney at large, to investigate conditions at the hotel. Those arrested were Walter P. Jones, bell captain; Charles Schenk and Leo T. Reilly. Agents seeking Paul Neil, another bellboy, found his uniform on the roof, but Neil was gone.

EMORY GRADUATE BEGINS 15,000-MILE "HITCH-HIKE" TOUR

C. M. McMillan, Emory university graduate, erstwhile student correspondent for The Constitution and assistant to the national "Hitch Hike" title, late Friday afternoon left Atlanta for Birmingham, on the first lap of what he expects to be a 15,000-mile tour.

McMillan was graduated from the university last Tuesday after completing the four-year course with honors. He earned, in dozens of ways, all of the money required in financing his education. He wants to be a writer and is undertaking the present trip largely for the purpose of securing background for his literary endeavors. From Birmingham he plans to make his way westward to New Orleans and thence across to Texas and to Mexico, from there to the Pacific coast and north to Canada, finally completing a great circle bringing him, via the sea coast, back to Georgia.

He carries letters from various local officials and plans to make the entire trip in the college man's favorite method, i. e., over the open road on the walk-a-little-ride-a-little plan.

S. C. ROAD BOND ISSUE WILL BE FOUGHT TO FINISH

Greenville, S. C., March 22.—(AP)—Opposition to the Piedmont section counties to the $65,000,000 South Carolina road bond issue is "a fight to the finish and not just a friendly suit," Colonel W. H. Keith, of the Greenville delegation, said today in making known plans for pressing the suit to have the bond issue declared unconstitutional.

The law firm of Haynsworth and Haynsworth, Greenville, will be employed to assist Columbia attorneys, he said. To help defray the expenses of the anti-bond fight, Anderson county has already appropriated $1,000 and a like sum has been given by private citizens of Cherokee county. Colonel Keith said. The Greenville delegation will appropriate $1,000 and appropriations are expected from the Spartanburg and Greenwood delegations, he added.

HOBART GREGORY TO DIE IN CHAIR FOR DAVIS SLAYING

Greenville, S. C., March 22.—(AP)—Hobart Gregory, 31, today was sentenced to be electrocuted May 3 at the state penitentiary in Columbia following his conviction on a charge of murder of Rufus Davis, young steamfitter, who was stabbed to death with a bread knife during a fight in a local cafe.

Sargon Soft Mass Pills.

"For years I was in poor health and finally, after eight years' office work with the Paramount Pictures Co., here in Atlanta, I was compelled to give up my position because I was so terribly weak, nervous and run-down that it was impossible for me to continue."

"For a long time my digestive organs were so badly upset that nothing I ate agreed with me. I suffered terribly after meals, my appetite was very poor, and I will never forget those awful, splitting headaches that I suffered with almost continually. My blood was so impoverished that my color was right ashy. My back and hips hurt me so badly I could hardly get out of bed in the morning, and I would go to work so tired, weak, and in such misery that I often felt like I would drop in my tracks. My circulation was poor. I had practically no strength or energy, and I suffered so with biliousness, that life was simply miserable. It seemed to me that I tried just about every medicine I had ever heard of, but nothing gave me any lasting relief. I was almost hopeless, and I will admit that I was very skeptical when I started the Sargon treatment, but after the first few doses, it seemed to me that I could just feel myself fairly tingle with improved circulation. My color turned ruddy and healthy, my strength and energy came back, and how differently I began to look on life! My appetite is wonderful now, my food agrees with me, and my sleep is as sound and restful as that of a tired child. I was surprised and delighted with every pain and ache, and especially those awful headaches. My nerves are normal again and my friends all tell me how wonderfully well I am looking."

"I will never cease being grateful to Sargon Soft Mass Pills for the astonishing way in which they ended my constipation and biliousness. They don't shock or upset, but stimulate my liver, rid my system of all poison and regulated me perfectly. I am just a well and happy woman today and I give my wonderful Sargon treatment credit for every bit of it."

The above remarkable statement was recently made by Mrs. M. L. Thomas, well-known and highly esteemed resident of 354 Crew street, S. W.

How this amazing new medicine succeeds, where everything else has failed; how it is bringing health and happiness to tens of thousands of sufferers by scientific methods undreamed of a few short years ago, is being explained personally by the Sargon representative at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where hundreds of people throng to hear him every day. ## BIOGRAPHY, HISTORY DISCUSSED AT EXPO

Biography and history as vital factors of literature were stressed Friday by three leading southern writers at the southern book exposition, which comes to a close today in the book shop of M. Rich & Bros. Co.

Friday's speakers were Judge Robert Winston, of North Carolina, author of "Andrew Johnson—Plebian and Patriot," one of the most successful of modern biographies, whose address on "The Modern Biography" is treated fully elsewhere in this issue; Dr. E. Merton Coulter, of the University of Georgia at Athens, author of "College Life in the Old South," and William M. Robinson, Jr., of Augusta, Ga., author of "Confederate Privates."

Dr. Coulter and Mr. Robinson gave a big book exposition audience a vivid impression of the fascinating nature of history as it relates to their particular periods of writings, the former relating many interesting anecdotes of early southern college life and the latter telling thrilling stories of maritime adventure under the Confederate banner.

Miss Agnes Kendrick Gray, director of the book exposition, president and music was provided by an Atlanta orchestra.

Two programs today will mark the last day of the exposition, which started March 16. This morning the orchestra and chorus of 65 of the Atlanta Junior Music Club will perform in the book shop. Miss Gray and visiting writers will explain the books and interesting exhibits of the exposition to visiting children, and Douglas Oliver, Atlanta Boy Scout who recently toured Africa on a big game hunt, will speak and autograph the book he published on his adventures.

In the afternoon J. G. De Roulhac Hamilton, of the history department of Chapel Hill, will speak on "Rare Documents of the South." Dr. Thomas speak on "Original Manuscripts and Treasures of Emory," and Mrs. A. M. Wilson will tell of the work of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association.

Baritone Thomas Eager for Golf With Bobby Jones

John Charles Thomas, the famous young American baritone who is to sing in concert at the Woman's Club auditorium on Monday night, has wired Russell Bridges, president of the Southern Musical Bureau, that he will arrive in Atlanta early Sunday morning.

Mr. Thomas adds that he is looking forward with keen interest to the golf match that has been arranged for Sunday afternoon at East Lake, when others in the foursome will include Bobby Jones and Charley Paddock, the famous sprinter.

Incidentally, Mr. Thomas' manager, who arrived in Atlanta Friday, remarked that "neither Mr. Jones nor Mr. Paddock need expect to play with a dub when they play with Thomas." The manager explained that the famous baritone is undoubtedly the most athletic singer of the day and is an excellent golf player while, as a sprinter, he might run a respectable quarter-mile with the great Paddock himself.

Suits for the Thomas recital, which are on sale at the Cable Piano company, have been in fair demand. Mr. Bridges reported Friday night, though there are a number of choice locations still available. The sale will continue there today and Monday until 5 o'clock. The box office at the Woman's Club, on Peachtree street, will open at 7 o'clock on Monday night.

$35,000 DAMAGES ASKED AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two pedestrians and a bicycle rider filed damage suits in Atlanta city court Friday. A total of $35,000 is sought as damages in the three accident cases.

J. P. Johnson, 14-year-old messenger boy, asks $10,000 for injuries alleged to have been received when hit by an automobile driven by T. H. Stevens, Johnson's father. Robert Johnson, seeks $10,000 for loss of services. The petitions, filed by T. L. Slappes and Homer Watkins as attorneys, allege that Johnson, on a bicycle, was struck down and injured by Stevens' car at Highland and Jackson on May 8, 1928, and that as a result of the injuries his right leg was shortened two inches.

Feston O'Neal filed a suit against T. P. Jones for $10,000, claiming that he was injured by Jones' car at Harris and Butler streets on January 25. This petition was filed by Burress and Dilard.

John Gentry, of 410 Williams, N. E., filed suit for $5,000 against W. F. McCormick, of 1302 West Peachtree for injuries alleged to have been received when hit by a car driven by McCormick's wife on March 1, at Alexander and Spring streets. The suit was filed by Attorney R. B. Lambert.

HEARING ON BANK INJUNCTION SUIT GETS UNDER WAY

Hearing of an injunction suit brought by J. A. Beall and Harry Henner, who seek to restrain the city from making payments on Parkwood Park, John A. White Park and Chosewood Park, on the ground of illegality, was started Friday by Judge Virgil B. Moore in Fulton superior courts. On adjournment the case was continued until Monday.

Prohi Workers Get Orders To Adopt 'Hands Off' Policy With Diplomatic Liquor

Customs Officials, Police and All Others Warned in Official Note From Department.

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—Federal prohibition agents, customs officials and local police were warned by the treasury department today that they must henceforth adopt a "hands off" policy where diplomatic liquor, accompanied by an accredited attaché of an embassy, is being transported.

The treasury confirmed the issuance of instructions to the proper authorities settling the question of just what requirements the foreign embassies and legations in Washington must comply with to make their liquor shipments free of police interference.

Ever since the Washington police seized 99 cases of liquor consigned to the Siamese legation last week while it was being transported by a private truck owner, the question of transportation of embassy liquor by such private trucks expanded until it involved the state, treasury and justice departments.

Out of the maze of technicalities relating to the procurement of proper customs waivers by the diplomats expecting liquor shipments three important directions stand out in the treasury's instructions. First, no permit may be lawfully issued for the transportation of intoxicating liquors by a diplomat; second, all liquors imported by diplomats should come into the port of Baltimore, and third, the ownership of the vehicle moving the liquor is not important, since an accredited diplomat accompanying the vehicle would be in physical possession of the shipment and since he is immune from arrest of molestation.

The final settlement of the question was received by the embassies and legations with elation. The happiest of the Washington diplomats were those who have liquor shipments, ordered before the Siamese incident, on the high seas and who did not know just exactly how they were going to get their cargoes from Baltimore to Washington without police interference.

Two of the best known ambassadors to the United States, on being informed several days ago that their shipments would arrive in Baltimore within a week, immediately appealed to the state department to find a way out of their difficulties.

The state department then reiterated that the diplomats could carry the liquor from Baltimore in their own cars with complete immunity, but in many instances, private automobiles were found unsuitable for transportation of shipments. Later the state department took the position that a truck, if driven by an accredited attaché of the embassy, would be immune from seizure. The treasury's instructions apparently eliminate the necessity of a diplomat accompanying the truck, since his accompanying the shipment could be construed to constitute "physical possession" as prescribed by the department's directions.

There never has been any question of the rights of the diplomats to import whatever liquor they may desire for their private use. This right is a centuries-old one established by diplomatic custom. After the Siamese incident, however, the foreign missions desired to know just what the legal requirements were that they must comply with to move their liquor and the treasury's instructions apparently have settled the vexing question.

HELD UNDER BOND. MAN DISAPPEARS FROM 'BULL PEN'

Frank S. Lipton, who was put under $1,500 bond Friday by Commissioner Griffith on a charge of violating the national motor vehicle act, disappeared immediately after the hearing. He had been placed in the federal building "bull pen" and proceeded to walk out when he found that the door had been left open. He was charged with stealing an automobile in Charlotte, N. C., and transporting it to Atlanta. It was stated that he was arrested by city officers recently on a charge of disorderly conduct and that subsequent investigation revealed that he had a car in his possession which was traced to Charlotte. Officers said that he admitted the theft.

$50,000 BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED BY CITY INSPECTOR

Building permits calling for more than $50,000 worth of construction were issued Friday by City Building Inspector C. J. Bowen.

One provides for alterations and repairs to property owned by J. N. Hirsch at Alabama and Pryor streets, and the other for erection of a service station by the Standard Oil Company at 439 Peters street, at a cost of $7,000. The Hirsch job will cost about $44,000.

Educational Fund For Hazel Hughes Reaches $455.47

Hazel Hughes, 15-year-old blind girl, whose ambition to become a teacher of the blind has resulted in the establishment of a trust fund for her, Friday was $33 nearer her goal as the result of contributions received by A. M. Smith, of Smith and Guest, 19 Houston, N. E., who is in charge of the fund. The total so far received is $455.47.

But for the bullet from the gun of an escaped maniac, Hazel would not have to depend upon the generosity of the public for her education in college, which is to fit her for the place of teacher. The bullet slew her father, County Patrolman Bethel L. Hughes, and threw a serious impediment in the path of her ambition, until the trust fund was organized.

Money is Needed. It will take money, a great deal of it, to furnish Hazel with the education so necessary for the fulfillment of her laudable choice of a career, and so far a good start has been made toward the goal, but more funds are needed to equip Hazel with college training. Subscriptions should be sent to Mr. Smith, who will deposit the money in the bank for the trust fund as it is received.

Subscriptions received Friday follow: Formerly acknowledged $422.47 A. Friend 10.00 Henry C. Tuck, Athens, Ga. 10.00 Friend 10.00 Friend 5.00 Mrs. H. P. Seales 5.00 $455.47

Teacher Lauds Hazel. As a teacher of the class for the blind in the Atlanta public school system, he has instructed Hazel for five years and knows her to be of the very finest character, to be competent and thoroughly normal in her outlook on life, according to J. J. Childs, of 446 Alwood, S. W. Mr. Childs said that "her lack of eyesight is of course a tremendous handicap, but her self-respect would never allow her to use this circumstance as the basis of an appeal to charity. And surely no appeal to charity is needed. Her father, shot to death in the discharge of his duty to the community, would have provided Hazel with a college education. Surely the community, in meager return for this sacrifice, can do no less than provide—not as charity, but as a sacred obligation—those educational advantages to his children which his death might otherwise have rendered impossible."

STATE VOCATIONAL EDUCATION BOARD WILL MEET TODAY

The state board of vocational education will meet at the capitol today to discuss matters of importance in connection with the work of this department. It was announced Friday by Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools. The meeting will be held in the office of Dr. Duggan.

W. C. T. U. Endowment Fund Is Subscribed, Headquarters Assured

The Georgia Women's Temperance Union announced here Friday successful completion of the drive for $15,000 endowment fund which insures the organization the home of N. C. McPherson, Sr., for state headquarters.

This home, located in the Morning-side section, was donated by Mr. McPherson on the condition that the endowment fund just completed be used for its upkeep.

The announcement said it was thought that the local unions throughout the state may have small sums in their treasuries which have been raised for the endowment fund and which would permit remodeling of the building.

"The roll of builders and founders which is to be in bronze on the wall of the building, carrying the names of the veteran prohibitionists of Georgia, is still open for additional names," read the announcement. "One is made a builder by a gift of $100 and a founder by a $500 contribution. The Georgia W. C. T. U. is anxious that no pioneer or worthy worker for prohibition in the state should be omitted from this tablet, the only monument that so far has been raised to the heroes and heroines of Georgia who fought to free Georgia from the legalized liquor traffic."

D. V. SPENCER ELECTED JACKSON SCHOOL HEAD

Jackson, Ga., March 22.—(Special.) At a meeting of the Jackson board of education held during the week, Professor D. V. Spencer was reelected as superintendent of the Jackson public schools for another year. He was first elected in 1927 and has been named each year since that time. Before coming to the Jackson school system, Professor Spencer taught in Marietta and Sandersville and was head of the Lithonia public schools.

A. M. E. GROUP HEARS BISHOP FOUNTAIN SPEAK

Cartersville, Ga., March 22.—(Special.)—Bishop W. A. Fountain, D. D., Ph. D., Episcopal head of the A. M. E. denomination of Georgia, and chancellor of the university system, made the principal address at the field day observance of the Marietta district conference in annual session in St. Luke A. M. E. church here today. Dr. J. A. Hadley, presiding elder of the district, presided.

The conference is making headway in business as the sessions near the close, with pastors and delegates rendering reports to the body on the spiritual and numerical strength of the churches in the district. The various committees made reports through chairmen and showed in many cases the need of better church oversight by pastors.

The district plans greater work on evangelism education and a missionary movement. Rev. M. M. Pence delivered the principal address at city school, observing program for Rosewald school fund. Florence L. Hadley, district president of the missionary society, addressed the body. A noonday sermon was given by Dr. R. H. Porter Dalton. The delegates were luncheoned under the auspices of the local missionary society of St. Luke Church. A sermon tonight was given by Dr. A. R. Cooper, Atlanta, followed with an address by Dr. W. A. Fountain, president of Morris Brown University, and Dean G. A. Singleton, Turner Theological Seminary. Dr. C. C. Haley, pastor of the church, has the co-operation of all church workers in the city in caring for the large delegation.

$5,000,000 IN TIMBER DESTROYED BY FIRE

17,000 Forest Fires in Year Reported by B. M. Lufburrow.

Timber valued at more than $5,000,000 was destroyed in Georgia in 1928 by forest fires, according to a statement issued Friday by B. M. Lufburrow, state forester.

Twenty-two per cent of the forest land of the state is estimated to have been burned over as a result of about 17,000 forest fires occurring in 1928. Of the 23,000,000 acres of forest land in the state, over 5,000,000 were burned over at an estimated damage of a dollar or more an acre.

A more encouraging report from the office of the state forester is that 1,500,000 acres of Georgia forests have been put under fire protection through formation of timber protective organizations with their established fire towers, patrol service, fire breaks, etc. On this protected area only 196 fires broke out. These fires were confined to 22,000 acres, or to one and a half per cent, as compared to 22 per cent on the unprotected area, according to the records.

The cost of fire protection of the timber protective organizations, including initial costs of towers, equipment and personnel, according to the records, varies but averaged in 1928 about 8 cents per acre. This will be considerably less, it is stated, after first costs have been covered.

HOOVER TO ATTEND STONE BURIAL SERVICE

Washington, March 22.—(AP)—The ashes of Melville E. Stone, former general manager of the Associated Press, who died in New York February 15, reposed tonight in a vault at the Washington Cathedral, the great Gothic edifice that has been rising for more than 20 years on Mount Saint Alban in this city.

Tomorrow at 11 o'clock, in the presence of President Hoover, Vice President Curtis and other high officials of the American and foreign governments, the internationally known journalist and one of the founders of the press association he served so long, will be buried in the crypt of Bethlehem chapel alongside the tombs of 13 other prominent men, including Woodrow Wilson, Admiral Dewey and a member of his own profession, Herman Henry Kolsbatt.

Mr. Stone's ashes were brought here late today from New York by a small party, including Miss Elizabeth Stone, a daughter, and Arthur S. Thompson, who served him for many years as a secretary. Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press, and Byron Price, chief of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press, met the party at the station and accompanied them to the cathedral.

The committal ceremony tomorrow will be conducted by the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of the diocese of Washington, assisted by the dean of Washington, the Very Rev. G. C. F. Bratenahl. Music will be furnished by the cathedral choir of men and boys.

Departures at Fort McPherson Occasion Change in Personnel

Fort McPherson, Ga., March 22.—The army personnel is changing at present at the garrison in view of orders from the war department which will cause the departure of several attractive members of the military group. Among those who will leave soon are Captain and Mrs. Robert Joerg, Jr., and their sons, Robert Joerg, III, and Wood Joerg, who for the past year and a half have been living at the garrison where Captain Joerg has been on duty with the 22nd infantry as the popular and efficient adjutant. The Joergs will leave in June to visit relatives in Alabama before sailing July 11 for their new station at Porto Rico. During their stay at the post both Captain and Mrs. Joerg have taken an active part in the activities of the garrison and have endeared themselves to a large circle of friends. Mrs. Joerg, with her charm of personality and her deep interest in the cultural, will be especially missed. As the director of the chapel choir she has given generously of her talents and her beautiful voice has added much to the services at the post chapel. She has been an enthusiastic member of the Ladies' Riding Class, of the Chapel Guild, and the Fort McPherson Dramatic Club, and a host of good wishes will follow both Captain and Mrs. Joerg to their new home.

The medical corps has also received several different orders which will cause the leave-taking of two efficient doctors and their families and an attractive member of the army nurse corps. Major and Mrs. Nelson Myl, accompanied by their small daughters, Peggy and Dorothy, left by motor Wednesday for Detroit, Mich., where they will be the guests of Mrs. Myl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Myl, before sailing May 3 for their new station in the Philippines, with the Panama canal, aboard the United States army transport Somme.

Captain Maxwell G. Keeler has received orders from the war department which will take both he and Mrs. Keeler to Washington, D. C., for promotion. Prior to going to Washington, Mrs. Keeler, accompanied by her three small children, will visit her mother, Mrs. A. Schoonmaker, in Stamford, Conn. She will leave the garrison Friday, March 22, while Captain Keeler will motor to Washington, leaving the post early next week.

A charming member of the army nurse corps, Miss Sarah Tilton, who for the past four years has been on duty with the efficient staff at the Fort McPherson hospital, is resigning from the service next month, much to the regret of her many friends in the military contingent at the post. Miss Tilton plans to leave about April 1 for Mexico, where she will reside. Since she is a Georgian, claiming the beautiful old city of Savannah as her home, particular interest of her friends in Atlanta and throughout the state centers around her future residence in her native state.

Mrs. Abraham G. Lott, the president of the Chapel Guild, announces an extra meeting of that organization, Monday afternoon at the Officers' Club at 3 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended all the ladies of the garrison to attend and new members will be extended the privilege of membership at this meeting.

Mrs. Rebecca Naomi Rhodes, the newest addition to the W. F. T. U. of Washington, D. C., was an interesting speaker at the post Wednesday when she spoke to an audience of 500 officers and enlisted men on temperance. Mrs. Rhodes left the post the day after.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

GENTLEMAN JIMMY. By Thornton W. Burgess. The tender hearted never quail, Nor let the hand of mercy fail. —Farmer Brown's Boy.

He walked right into the house.

The most mournful way was Jimmy Skunk, with a small glass jar fast on his head.

Now, Mother Brown has one of the kindest hearts in the world, she had stepped back hurriedly, because she had been startled. But now she stepped forward again. She was acquainted with Jimmy Skunk. They were old friends. Jimmy had even been in her kitchen and made himself at home there. "You poor thing!" said Mother Brown. "If you were not such a perfect gentleman, I might be afraid. But I'm not afraid. How under the sun did you get that jar on your head? I suppose there was a little bit of something in there that smelled good. The question now is, what are we going to do about it? I do believe you came straight here seeking help."

She was right about that, as you and I know. Jimmy had understood that no one could help him but one of those two-legged creatures called humans, and so he had headed straight for Farmer Brown's. It had been a long trip and a hard trip and Jimmy was tired. But now he felt that something would be done for him.

"Hello, what's going on here?" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy, who had just come around the corner of the house.

"Your friend, Jimmy Skunk, has got himself in trouble, and I do believe he has come to us to get him out of it," replied Mother Brown.

"Of course he has," said Farmer Brown's Boy, "and we have got to get him out of it."

He stooped over and gently picked Jimmy up. Jimmy made no protest whatever. Farmer Brown's Boy sat down on the doorstep, holding Jimmy in his arms. Then he took hold of that jar and tried to pull it off Jimmy's head. But it wouldn't come off. It had gone on, but it wouldn't come off.

"I want the hammer," said Farmer Brown's Boy.

"You are not going to break that jar on his head, are you?" demanded Mother Brown.

Put a "handful of health" in the muffins tonight

IT TAKES only a few minutes to make bran muffins if you use the famous ALL-BRAN recipe. Just try it. You'll get the lightest, fluffiest, best muffins you ever took from the oven. All the family will surely praise your skill that night!

And remember, you'll be helping them to better health at the same time. For so many foods are lacking in bulk or roughage. And it is this lack that so often causes constipation—which in turn steals energy and health and may even cause serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. By serving it in some form every day you can protect your family. So many ways to serve it too. In waffles, breads. Sprinkled into soups. Mixed with other cereals. And, of course, with milk or cream, fruits or honey

ALL-BRAN Muffins
2 tablespoons shortening, ¼ cup sugar, egg, 1 cup milk, 1 cup Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, 1 cup flour, ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder.
Cream shortening and sugar together, add egg. Mix and sift flour, soda, salt, and baking powder. To creamed mixture add ALL-BRAN, then milk, alternately with sifted dry ingredients. Pour into greased muffin tins, and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) for 20 minutes. Yield: either 12 large or 24 medium size muffins. If sweet milk is used instead of sour, omit soda and use 3 teaspoons baking powder.

added, it makes a delightful breakfast dish. Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Part-bran products, at best, bring part results. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Just eat two table-spoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Sold by all grocers. Served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed!
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Let it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

THE MEDBURY FORT MURDER

By GEORGE LIMNELLIUS

SYNOPSIS.
Major Hugh Preece of the Royal Army Medical Corps has just been transferred from Bath to Fort Medbury, which is not far from London. He is about to leave his office one day to take his wife and children for a ride when Lieutenant Lepan is announced and he has to stay and examine him. The lieutenant is suffering from a mild disorder and the major prescribes for him. After the young officer leaves Major Preece remembers that he has seen him before under embarrassing circumstances. The visit puts the major in a reminiscent mood. He recalls his first love affair with Prunella Lake, an actress on the London stage; then his being sent to West Africa and his subsequent rise at parting from Prunella. In his return to London Preece again meets Prunella. He asks her to marry him and she refuses. Shortly afterwards she marries Tremaine Bonar. Preece marries Claire Chisholm, sister of one of West African associates. A few years later Prunella and Hugh meet at Swindon, where they spend the night together. Preece remembers seeing Lieutenant Lepan in the hotel corridor as he leaves Prunella's room in the morning. A few days after Lieutenant Lepan's professional call on Major Preece, the younger officer invites him to dinner in the room for a night cap and tells him he is aware of his affair with Lady Bonar. Preece has an impulse to kill him, but refrains. He threatens to expose him, at which Lepan laughs. Lepan's room, Lieutenant Harris calls to him and asks him to come into his room. He tells Preece that he has lost heavily at cards to Lepan and the latter is pressing him for the debt. Preece goes to his own room and reads a letter from Prunella in which she says that Lepan had written asking to see her. She tells Preece that he must get rid of Lepan. The next morning Lepan is found dead in bed. Captain Wape, in charge of the fort, sends for the post.

INSTALLMENT XVIII. SCOTLAND YARD TAKES A HAND.

Mentally damning the sergeant's recitation of that word "deceased," Wape answered: "Private Mason. Yes. I'll get him."

"Bad business, sir," the sergeant commented to Preece, as Wape left the room.

"Shocking!"

"You look a bit blue, too," the sergeant reflected, "should've thought a doctor, and an army one at that, would've been used to nasty sights. Still, war, that's different." Aloud, he asked: "No views, sir, as to 'oo could've done it, or how?"

"None. It's a complete mystery."

Wape entered, followed by Private Mason, and the major, with a stiff "Good morning" to the sergeant, hurried from the room. Sergeant Nuttall turned his attention to the private soldier.

"Now, then. What do you know about this?"

"Nuffin, sergeant," the little, stockily built Cockney replied. "Mr. Lepan, 'e told me to call 'im at a quarter to five, so I did. A' when I'd bin knockin' a bit the M. O. 'e 'eard, an' 'e kum art, an' 'e knocked, an' then the Cap'n, 'e kum an' then Mister 'Arris, an'—"

The sergeant interrupted with a question: "Did Lieutenant Lepan always lock 'is door before going to bed?"

"Yes, an' 'e kum in the mornin' 'e 'as to get up an' let me in 'is 'is own fair 'ands, so 'e say."

"Did you enter the room when the door was forced?"

"Yersee. But I didn't 'ardly see nuffin. Major Preece 'ad us out aside in a jiffy."

Nothing more was to be obtained from this witness, Sergeant Nuttall decided. "Can I see the corporal of the guard now?" he demanded.

"Mason," Captain Wape ordered, "as you go down, tell Corporal Penrose to come here at once."

Mason saluted and left the room. "In you want me to stay, sergeant," Wape asked.

"No, sir. I expect the detective inspector will like to put some additional questions to all the witnesses."

"I'll insure that they are all available. Meanwhile, I'll go and get some breakfast." He left the room, and presently a knock at the door heralded the arrival of Corporal Penrose.

"Well, corporal, take a seat and tell me all you know," the police sergeant addressed the corporal as an equal.

The corporal had already rehearsed his story. It had begun to assume the familiar orderly room style of narrative. Later on the present rough version would be moulded to the complete classical form of the case.

"At Medbury fort," he commenced,

"On the night of 5th-6th June, 1927, I was corporal in charge of the guard. At about 4.30 a. m. on the 6th June, I observed Private Mason passing through the guard room towards the stairs leading to the officers' quarters. He was carrying Lieutenant Lepan's water canteen. Some three minutes later I became aware of a continuous hammering sound. I opened the door at the foot of the stairs and climbed up until I could see down the passage outside the quarters. Private Mason was knocking on the lieutenant's door. I next saw Major Preece come along. He asked Private Mason what was the matter, and then 'e starts 'ammering and calling out. Captain Wape then come out, and Mister 'Arris soon after. At about 5.05 a. m. I heard Major Preece say the door must be broken open. I then went up, and as I 'ad my boots on, the captain told me to bust the door open by kicking at the lock. This I did, the lock being torn out of the woodwork after a few kicks." The corporal smiled with a quiet pride, and continued: "I entered the room for the officers, but I did not see anything owing to the room being so dark and Major Preece sending every one out of the room immediately."

"Didn't anyone turn on the light?"

"They may 'ave done, but the current is cut off at 5 o'clock and it was past that."

"Ah!" The sergeant leaned back reflectively. "A very queer case this," he remarked in a confidential tone. "First of all, how did the murderer get into the room, let alone get out?"

The sergeant bent forward eagerly and asked: "Perhaps he got out after the door was burst open?"

The corporal shook his head: "Gouldn't 'ave done," he said. "I posted two sentries just outside the door at once; shouted over the bannisters for 'em to come up from the guard room. There's bin two men outside every second of the time till your bloke took over. Perhaps he's still inside. Did you look?"

The sergeant gasped: "No, I didn't. Come along."

Followed by the corporal, he strode down the corridor. The constable whom he had posted there was standing placidly against the door, which stood slightly ajar.

"No one came out of this room, Evans?"

"No, sergeant. Nor gone in," replied the constable, regarding his superior with astonishment.

Sergeant Nuttall pushed open the door and once more entered that dark and silent room. He gazed round the room. There was nowhere a man could hide. No curtains to the windows, the fireplace too small to allow anyone, except a very small boy, to squeeze through the chimney. He could see right under the table; the chest of drawers was flush against the wall. The bed itself? It was very dark. He knelt down.

"What are you looking for, sergeant?"

With a start which brought the back of his head smartly into contact with the iron bedpost, Sergeant Nuttall withdrew his head and scrambled to his feet. A small, stoutish man, dressed in a gray lounge suit, was regarding him with a genial smile. Behind him was a man in a black morning coat who carried a little black bag.

"Damn!" thought the sergeant ruefully. "What a fool I look!" He blushed and aloud, asked: "Detective Inspector Paton?"

The little man nodded: "That's right." He did not press for an explanation of the attitude in which the sergeant had been discovered, thereby insuring Nuttall's grateful devotion.

Detective Inspector Paton, hands in pockets, glanced slowly around the room. Approaching the bed, he bent and examined the face of the dead man minutely. He walked with a leisurely stride around the room. Suddenly he stopped. Nuttall perceived he had come across the French bayonet. He bent down, felt the blade, and, to Nuttall's amazement, kicked it carelessly into the fireplace.

"Was the light switched on when the room was first entered, d'you know, sergeant?"

"It was, sir."

"No light, though?"

"Current's switched off at 5 a. m. This half of a button I found, sir."

The detective regarded the portion of button thoughtfully. "Yes," he said, mildly, "one of Lepan's pajama buttons is broken in half, this is undoubtedly the missing half, but I fear it tells us absolutely nothing. No doctor," he continued briskly, "get on with your examination, will you? Sergeant, we'll just go outside and you shall tell me what you have been able to discover about the case."

Baylis Victor In Close Race Over Wagner

Virginia Ashe Gives Exhibition; Eight Events Run Off; Finals Tonight.

Atlanta's first annual indoor swimming meet was greeted with a large competitive field Friday night at the Atlanta Athletic Club sponsoring the event, as the first events of the two-day affair were held.

The best of the amateur swimmers in Atlanta were present and a fairish sort of crowd was on hand to watch the swimmers in action. The meet will be continued tonight at the club, with many interesting events scheduled.

Eight events were completed with competition among men, boys and girls. Eleven events are scheduled for tonight, each of them being final.

One of the closest races of the night came in the 100-yard back stroke in Class A which was won by Gene Baylis. Baylis got off to a good start in his event but was closely followed by Wagner, who pushed him all of the way. On the final turn Baylis gained a yard or so and came roaring down the stretch to nose out Wagner by a scant few feet.

Just before the fancy diving, which was won by Frank Maier, Virginia Ashe, one of the best women swimmers in the south, gave an exhibition, swimming 50 yards in a beautiful exhibition of form swimming.

Following are the results:

Colored Tourney Closes Tonight

The colored inter-fraternal basketball tournament will come to a close tonight when the Omegas meet the Alphas and the Sigmas tie up with the Kappas in the finals to decide the championship between the colored fraternities of the city, at Sunset park at 7:30 o'clock.

In the last games, the Omegas chalked up their second victory of the tournament at the expense of the Sigmas, but not until they were pushed to the limit and won the game in the last 40 seconds of play, by the score of 21-20. The Omegas will have to keep their slate clean in tonight's game to win the championship. A victory tonight will give the Omegas a consecutive championship in as many years.

Every team in the tournament has been defeated with the exception of the Omegas. The Alphas made a very poor showing against the Kappas Wednesday night and lost the tilt by the score of 20-31.

Florida Head Coach To Direct Athletics

Gainesville, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Charles W. Bachman, head coach of football at the University of Florida, will become director of athletics with the expiration of the term of Captain Everett M. Von, on May 15.

Announcement of the appointment of Coach Bachman as director of athletics was made today from the office of President John J. Tigert, following the return of the chief executive from West Palm Beach where the state board of control met this week.

Chicagoan Wins Title In 37-Hole Battle

Bloomington, Miss., March 22.—(AP)—Don Hamilton, Olympia Country Club, Chicago, nosed his way to the title in the 36-hole finals of the golf state tournament today by defeating Don Armstrong, Aurora, Ill., former titleholder, 1 up on the thirty-seventh hole.

The bare margin of victory came after a closely fought match all the way. Though both shot exceptionally good golf, Hamilton played a steadier game, while his opponent lost the match through small fractional misses on putts.

Purple Track Team Defeats Jacket Frosh

In a return meet between the track teams of Boys' High and the Georgia Tech freshman class, the Purple Jackets turned the tables on the Junior Frosh, winning an 8-0 verdict. In the previous meeting of the two teams the Jackets came out on top by a 7-0 margin.

The meet was closely contested throughout, and the two teams were never separated on the score sheet by an excessive margin.

The Purple outfit won on the scoring system used yesterday, which was on a four-place basis, but the Techsters had the small satisfaction of knowing that they would have won had a three-place system, which is usually used, or the regulation two-place system, of the dual meet idea, been in vogue. The Jackets earned a 64-63 decision under the three-place scheme, while their margin was slightly greater, being 59-53, with but two places being used.

The Graydon-Weatherford duel, which went to Weatherford last week by an 18-17 count, resulted in a 14-14 tie Friday. These two boys are division under the three-place scheme, prove valuable to the Tech cause in the coming years unless they are forced out of competition.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON

NEW YORK, March 22.—(AP)—Opening advances on unfavorable weather reports and relatively firm Liverpool cables were followed by declines in cotton today under renewed realization of liquidation, which appeared to be the tone in the stock market, apprehensions and weakness in re-discount rates and weakness in grain, May contracts sold off from 21.15 to 20.77 and closed at 20.81. The general market closed steady at net declines of 18 to 30 points.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points. Active trading showed net declines of 10 to 16 points in the Liverpool market, reports that spinners of American cotton in Lancashire had voted down the short time proposal, the south, and unfavorable weather advices from the north.

The advance was checked by realizing and near-mountain liquidation. March notices were reported as having eased off to 21.04 during the morning, or about 5 points net lower. Trading in that position was not active, the last sale reported being at 21.12.

The general market, which had been unsettled by the news of the cotton market, stiffened up a few points during the middle of the day. The price of cotton advanced, the early afternoon break was followed by moderate trading under a weak liquidation.

The lowest levels of the day were reached shortly before the close. May sold at 20.77 and the new October 20 points below 20.12, or about 20 points below yesterday's close. Part of the selling was attributed to a tendency that present prices would encourage planting, providing weather and conditions were favorable and weather and sufficient trading buying and covering to steady prices, but not losing covering the lowest.

Private cables reported covering and general buying in Liverpool and the southern heavy cloth. They by China and good money from West Africa. Exports for the day were 17,518,207 this season, 17,518,207 U. S. port stocks 1,783,507.

NOTES PUSH PRICES DOWNWARD

The higher prices attracted realizing which was augmented later by extensive liquidation and short selling. The report of the department of agriculture prediction, prices advanced off rapidly and the floor of offerings and before the close was checked by active positions showing a loss of the early high.

A denial that the department of agriculture issued any statement of business to the crop brought out some trading buying which was supplied at a rally of 7 to 10 points. The market weakened again in the afternoon, making new lows for the day with May at 20.07, July 20.11, and October 20.12, or 38 to 41 points under the high.

Final prices were 3 points above the lowest at noon at 19.87, 17 points net down.

Reserve Board Meeting Arouses Nervous Selling

DAILY STOCK SUMMARY

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER

Associated Press Financial Writer

Continued New York, March 22.—(AP)—Higher federal reserve discount rates because of much for the frayed nerves of the market today, and prices dipped sharply on the stock market under the failure of the New York Reserve Board to increase the discount rate.

The failure of the New York Reserve Board to increase the discount rate yesterday prompted some bullish activity in the market, but the Chicago Reserve Board, and the meeting in the afternoon, the federal reserve board was in session with Governor Harrison.

A particularly unsettling development was an announcement in the afternoon of the E. A. Pierce & Co., one of the larger New York houses, that it was selling its stock.

Although the Chicago Reserve Board made no announcement after its meeting, the development was interpreted as indicating that the conditions in Chicago had become thoroughly disquieting. The Chicago Reserve Board's action was expanded.

That no announcement was forthcoming after the Washington meeting of the Federal Reserve Board, which had been expected to increase the discount rate, was interpreted as a disappointment to Wall Street.

Managers have come to believe that continued suspension of the market has been a worse for the market than higher discount rates have been for the market.

Such issues as Allis-Chalmers, American Can, American Water Works, Bethlehem Steel, Canadian Pacific, Chrysler, Coca-Cola, International Nickel, Standard Oil of California, and U. S. Steel, among others, were mentioned.

Foreign exchanges were quiet and generally firm. The Japanese yen, however, sagged further touching 44.20 cents.
